TEMPLE SHOLOM FAMILY RIDERS KICK OFF RIDE

Sunday, May 22 at 2:00 PM

Mike Samuels and Howard Cylinder announce the 2011 schedule of bicycle rides of the Temple Sholom Family Riders beginning with a ride in Ridley Creek State Park on Sunday, May 22. This family bicycle ride is for members of Temple Sholom of all ages and friends. Come for a ride and a chance to socialize with other members of our Temple Family, enjoy the beauty of Spring time, and grab a bit of outdoor exercise together. Dress appropriately, including your helmet, and bring your smile!

Ride Details:
This 5.0 mile round trip on a paved trail provides a quiet, scenic escape. The trail travels through wooded areas along Ridley Creek and is lined with several benches and a porta potty opportunity. The trail has some gentle rolling hills. The main entrance to Ridley Creek State Park is Sandy Flash Drive South at Gradyville Road. If you are using GPS, use the following address: 351 Gradyville Road, Newtown Square, PA 19073.

We will meet at 1:45 SHARP at the Park Office/Mansion parking lot of the Park. This ride will be at a very slow and relaxed pace on the mostly level, paved Sycamore Mills Road Trail. This event is just perfect for kids and families with limited riding ability, stamina, or those on clunky bikes. We will stop very frequently for breaks so we can all stay together and enjoy each other’s company. Total riding time will be approximately 1 hour. Cost? How about ZERO? Our Ride Captain will be Howard Cylinder. Please call him in advance to register YOUR family for this great day outdoors with your Temple Family!

Please check your bicycle tires for proper inflation and everyone must wear a helmet. Children need to be accompanied by a responsible adult during this ride.

Questions? Call Howard Cylinder at 484-868-2578. See you there!

Join TS for: Jewish Zodiac founder Seth Front for his forty-five minute interactive lecture. Enjoy over one hundred images as he takes us on a journey through the history of the Jewish deli in America, from its origins on the Lower East Side at the turn of the 20th century, its adaptation to American tastes, its assimilation into mainstream American culture and finally to the challenges facing delis for survival in the 21st century.

With his trademark humor, Mr. Front weaves this social history into a compelling narrative by using the twelve most iconic deli foods as guideposts. These food symbols are the heart and soul of Mr. Front’s Jewish Zodiac, a deli food parody of the Chinese zodiac found online at www.jewzo.com.

Reservations are required and space is limited. Please contact Sandy Cohen at 610-356-5165 or e-mail skcohen@temple-sholom.org to take part in this fabulous evening! A special thank you to Mollie and Kevin Plotkin for sponsoring this event.

In his own words: "I was sitting at a Chinese restaurant one Sunday night, waiting for my Moo Goo Gai Pan and reading the Chinese Zodiac placemat that served as my table setting. You know - Year of the Dragon and Year of the Ox - the kitschy red and gold placemat with a few sentences describing the personal characteristics of each specific animal sign.

And I thought to myself, being the good rabbi's son that I am, Jews love Chinese food. Why isn't there a Jewish Zodiac? But what would a Jewish Zodiac be? It wouldn't be 'Year of the Dragon' or 'Year of the Ox,' it would be 'Year of the Bagel' and 'Year of the Lox.' It would be deli food!"

And thus "The Jewish Zodiac" was born. Being a comedy writer, I started creating the personality type for each deli food symbol, and all I can say is I was divinely inspired. Is The Jewish Zodiac for real? No, it's for fun! So have a laugh and enjoy. And remember, you don't have to be Jewish to believe in The Jewish Zodiac."
Since the holiday of Hanukkah only three major observances have been added to the Jewish calendar. Yom Ha'Atzma'ut, Israel's Independence Day was one of those. This should give us some idea of the incredible impact the leaders of the Jewish world felt that the establishment of the Jewish state meant to the Jewish people.

Israel's independence was declared on May 14, 1948, 63 years ago on this year's anniversary. Five neighboring Arab countries attacked the fledgling state that very night. Miraculously, the newly formed Israel Defense Force (IDF) managed to push them back and gain territory. This was known as the War of Independence, and Israel paid a high price both in terms of military and civilian casualties, as well as in financial terms.

Yom Ha'Atzma'ut, Israel's Day of Independence, is preceded by Yom Ha'Zikaron, a day of remembrance for the soldiers and others who died in the struggle for independence. On this Memorial Day Israelis flock to the cemeteries and hold memorial gatherings of various types, and during the day the country observes two minutes of silence in memory of the fallen. It is an incredible sight to see the entire country come to a standstill as people of all ages stop and stand at attention to remember those who sacrificed their lives for Israel.

Only a few hours later there is a drastic change in mood as people go from mourning to rejoicing and celebrating Israel's statehood. The message of linking these two days is clear: Israelis owe their independence - the very existence of the state - to the soldiers who sacrificed their lives for it.

The official "switch" from Yom Ha'Zikaron to Yom Ha'Atzma'ut takes place a few minutes after sundown, with a ceremony on Mount Herzl in Jerusalem in which the flag is raised from the half-staff of Memorial Day to the top of the pole. For the celebrations, towns all over Israel teem with revelers partying, dancing, and enjoying live concerts in the town squares and parks. The entire country is decked out in blue and white, and Israeli flags fly from every car. Yom Ha'Atzma'ut is a public holiday in Israel, and the parks and beaches (and even the strips along the highways) overflow with families and groups of friends, relaxing, rejoicing and enjoying their barbecues. For millennia our prayers and our thoughts as Jews have been directed toward Israel. The establishment of the state in 1948 and daily news about Israel undoubtedly increases our awareness and concern for the Jewish state. David Ben-Gurion, Israel's first prime minister, noted that Israel's Independence Day was the first holiday to be added to the Hebrew calendar in more than two thousand years.

Performing Arts Retrospective

The Performing Arts Committee of Temple Sholom (PATS) launched its first concert in January of 2000, when Rob Kesselman, Jennifer Kuhns and Marcia Kravis presented a wonderful recital that featured new music by Philadelphia composer Andrea Clearfield. Since that initial success, the PATS Committee has been presenting outstanding musicians in three or four concerts a year. Rob and Jennifer were the catalysts for the wonderful concept of a Temple Sholom Performing Arts Series. The series has consistently featured exciting talent in a wide range of styles. Many of our classical artists have been members of the Philadelphia Orchestra. We've presented the Society Hill Chamber Players, the Wister Quartet, the Audubon Quartet, the Barnard Trio, guitarists Allen Krantz and Peter Segal (z”l), trombonist and shofar player Nitzan Haroz, Intercultural Journeys, Yale University's a cappella group "Magevet," the Hester St. Troupe and the Klingon Klezmer Band, MIRAJ (a fabulous female trio), Beatlemania, children's performer Susan Salidor, jazz singer Arlana Gottlieb, pianist Arnold Ostroff, and budding young musicians: pianist Aaron Berkowitz, soprano Sara Duchovnay, and flutist Andrea Kaplan. About half of our concerts were co-sponsored by Jewish Federation of Greater Philadelphia, which was generous and very pleased to help sponsor such remarkable programs.

The final performance for this season was, of course, the delightful program presented by the Temple University String Quintet that Rob put together as a farewell concert for me on March 27. I really can't thank him enough; not only because the concert was a glorious example of the music I love so much, but because he, himself, has been so supportive through the years. He's been a huge influence in my life and in the musical and spiritual life of Temple Sholom. Thanks so much, Rob, for sharing your talent and vision so very generously!

I also want to publicly thank our extremely dedicated PATS Committee members (current and past), who have done everything necessary (from scrubbing dishes for the receptions to booking the performers) to create these outstanding events. I extend my sincere thanks to Laurie Albert, Joan Belfer, Rachel Broscoe, Evalyn Elias, Susan Garelik, Sandy Gold (z”l), Linda Litwin, Mark Litwin, Barbara Mark, Emily Moody, Lottie Morley, Barbara Ostroff, and Andrea Stern! You've made every one of our concerts a joy for me!

~Cantor Patty Kaplan

Thank You to Rob Kesselman and the Performing Arts Committee

CORRECTION

In last month’s Memory Makers column we neglected to mention that the job of Education Director was first held for 15 years by award winning curriculum writer for Temple Sholom, Neal Kahn. It was upon his retirement when Mitch Itzko became the Education Director. Our apologies for the error.

Thanks for keeping us honest, Marlene!

The Tzedakah Fund

The Temple Sholom Tzedakah Fund has been in existence for nearly two decades. During that time, we have made our annual distributions to organizations such as the Life Center of Delaware County, Philabundance, the Greater Delaware County Food Bank, Red Cross Disaster Relief, MAZON and other organizations to help provide food and shelter to those most in need.

We have also responded to immediate needs in the community and around the world. We have helped with flooding locally and internationally, hurricane relief, tsunami relief, helped organize two fund-raising cabarets, collected non-perishable food and clothing and more.

When there has been a specific request, our congregation has always responded. But there is need constantly in our community and beyond.

Please be generous and consider donating to the Tzedakah Fund for yahrzeits, to mark special occasions, to give thanks to teachers, or just because you want to help.

Thank you!

Before there were JDate and Match.com, there were old-fashioned blind dates set up by well-meaning friends and relatives. And that’s how Patty and Jeff Kaplan met each other in 1975 - through Patty’s voice teacher’s daughter.

Jeff is also musical, hailing from a family of musicians. He had been one of the original members in Frank Abrahams’ youth choir at Keneseth Israel (KI) in Elkins Park. In addition, Jeff is an avid music appreciator and plays in the Klezmer band, Shir Mishegas at Temple Sholom. Jeff views his role in Temple Sholom’s choir as being “the disruptive one.” He explains, “I joined the choir so that I could spend more time with Patty. We understand our roles. She’s in charge and I disrupt! Patty singles me out only when my behavior is impossible.”

Cantor Patty interrupts, leaning over to pat Jeff’s knee during the interview, “He’s actually very musical,” she confides, smiling.

The Kaplans were married in 1976 at KI. They were the first wedding for the first cantor there. Cantor Patty had been raised in the Lutheran faith but converted because she and Jeff wanted to start their Jewish family from the very beginning, starting with a Jewish wedding. According to Cantor Patty, “I knew I wanted to have a Jewish household and to raise Jewish children. Why? Because being Jewish is the best religion to be. Judaism is the Haagen Dazs of religions!”

They lived in the North Penn area so they belonged to Beth Or. Patty had been an opera major in college and she holds a Master’s degree in opera. She was teaching voice when she learned of an opening at Temple Sholom in Broomall for a cantorial soloist. “There was so much for me to learn at that point,” notes Cantor Patty, “I immediately started taking Hebrew classes and liturgical classes through Gratz College.” Jeff adds, “When Patty realized she could do it, I said ‘go for it!’”

Cantor Patty began at Temple Sholom in 1983. The family, which by then included two daughters ages 2 and 5, moved to Broomall in 1987. Searching for the perfect location for a house took a while. They live within walking distance for Cantor Patty and Jeff was 14 miles away from his job. Cantor Patty explains, “Because I go back and forth all day, and I’m here seven days a week, it was better to be close. The nearby location was perfect for our kids, too.”

“Temple Sholom was the only temple job I’ve ever had or ever sought,” says Cantor Patty. “By the time I retire in June, I’ll have been here 28 years.” After returning to college to further her Jewish education, Cantor Patty continued with the Certification Program through Hebrew Union College, an extremely demanding process that took five years. She became certified in 2002. “People had always called me ‘Cantor’ before that, but I wanted it to be real,” explains Cantor Patty. “I wanted the legitimization and the authenticity. In addition, I learned so much!”

When Cantor Patty began at Temple Sholom, the choir was already about two years old. According to her, one of the reasons she was hired was to be a choir director. Since that time, choir membership has more than doubled.

Cantor Patty has also added the youth choir, Kol Shalom and teen choir, Shalom Rav. Through all this time, there was always the adult choir, but the teen choir, which began about 15 years ago, performs in spurts, depending on demographics.

Cantor Patty’s major responsibilities grew to be Bar and Bat Mitzvah tutoring (including the Adult B’nai Mitzvah classes), to lead the choirs, to participate in life cycle events, and to take the cantorial role at services.

Cantor Patty proudly discusses what she believes have been her most important accomplishments during her tenure at Temple Sholom. “I’d like to believe that I’ve set a very high standard for musical quality here, and that I’ve nurtured a great appreciation of music within the congregation,” she says. “There is an opportunity to share your love of music at Temple Sholom, from classical music, Klezmer (Rabbi Peter Hyman was responsible for that), kids who like to sing, and instrumentalists. People who love to make music have a venue at Temple Sholom.”

Additionally, Cantor Patty has fostered many young Temple Sholom youth to follow career paths into music. Specifically, Cantor Patty points to Brian Lowdermilk, who wrote an entire Shabbat service that our congregation will celebrate on June 3. It is Brian who penned our Temple’s “signature” Oseh Shalom and he was only 17 when he wrote it. Matthew Stern now teaches music at Beth Elohim in Wellesley, MA; Leah Berkowitz is now a rabbi in Durham, NC; Hillary Rubesin follows her musical muse in Durham, NC, and Amanda Itzko, Emily and Elizabeth Samuels, and Justin Mark have all pursued music in some way.

Working alongside Rabbi Emeritus Mayer Selelman for so many years was a definite high point of Cantor Patty’s career. She notes that it was Rabbi Selelman who developed the para cantor/para rabbi program, in order to ensure lay leadership during summers. There had been a time quite long ago when the six-week summer period experienced staggered congregational yahrzeit lists shared by Beth David, Main Line Reform Temple and Temple Sholom. The development of the para group eliminated the need for congregational sharing. The para group also participates in leading shiva gatherings.

Jeff, who retired in June 2010 as a Project Manager at Lockheed Martin, definitely is keeping busy while Cantor Patty continues at Temple Sholom. A graduate of Princeton University with an electrical engineering degree and a Master’s degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Jeff is currently the Webmaster for the Princeton class of 1969. “Mostly, I cook and clean. I look forward to the time when Patty retires when she says she’ll do the cooking and cleaning,” Jeff jokes. He is also involved with Temple’s Brotherhood events, where he is known as the master egg cooker. He enjoys playing golf, outdoor activities, and vegetable gardening … “but the deer have defeated me,” admits Jeff. He is also learning to cook, primarily the basics. He has taken a cooking class and is learning to follow recipes from computers and cookbooks. Jeff adds (and Cantor Patty agrees): “I’m a great griller!”

Retirement for the Kaplans means a future filled with increased traveling, including more time spent in Chicago with their daughter, Sarah, and in St. Louis with their daughter, Andrea. Sarah is now 32, married to Sam Van Dellen, recently passed the Bar and is working for the Illinois State Attorney General’s office. Andrea, 29, is engaged to Mark Burnett and is in the St. Louis Symphony as the Associate Principal Flute player.

Cantor Patty is excited about spending more time with her children and making a priority of taking care of herself. She looks forward to yoga, Israeli dancing and swimming.

“There are so many things I can’t wait to treat myself to: more reading, more opera, more orchestra performances, and more traveling,” notes Cantor Patty, “And even though I don’t care for the everyday grind of cooking, I love event cooking and can’t wait to dabble more in that.”

Her yearning for retirement is tangible: “I’ve worked almost every weekend for 28 years. I’ve missed some terrific concerts of Andrea’s and I just don’t want to miss more.” And then Cantor Patty and Jeff grin almost impishly at each other as she confides, “We’re even looking forward to more ‘together time.’ We are actually getting along remarkably well, it turns out!”

And while Cantor Patty will definitely miss working together with Rabbi Peter Rigler on a daily basis – “It’s been such fun to have had the opportunity and pleasure to have worked with Rabbi Rigler,” she states – she views Temple Sholom’s future with great excitement.

“Temple Sholom is getting better and better and going from strength to strength,” observes Cantor Patty. “Under the leadership of Cantor Kerith Shapiro, our music will continue to blossom with her great strength and new energy. Cantor Shapiro has tremendous experience and talents. I believe she is a perfect match for this synagogue … her strengths match our needs.”

Editor’s Note: The Memory Makers column is the brainchild of Barbara Clarke and Donna Hendel. They interview, write and edit each story. It’s a true labor of love.

A WORD FROM THE BOARD

As I write this the world has been shifting: Physically, there was the earthquake and tsunami in Japan. Politically, there’s Tunisia, Egypt, Yemen, Libya, Syria, Wisconsin, etc... I’ve been swept up by the fast-paced, rapid-fire, minute-by-minute news coverage, trying to keep on top of the latest developments.

So I pull myself out of the flood of information from my lap-top and I wander outside. There is evidence of the world shifting here, too, but in a calmer and more predictable way – the sun is higher in the sky now, the snows are long gone, and flowers and leaves (remember leaves?) are reaching for the warmth that is returning above them.

Our world here at Temple Sholom has been shifting, too: The predictable pattern of Hanukkah to Purim to Passover, the new surprises - Abbey Krain, our wonderful new executive director, has slid in seamlessly and is hard at work; and a more noticeable change: After twenty-eight years our beloved Cantor Patty is retiring, and Cantor Kerith Shapiro will be joining us on our journey in July.

But, while things shift in large and small ways outside and inside of our synagogue, the expected changes – the cycle of the Jewish holidays, our children moving from Torah Tots to Sunday School to Hebrew School to getting their Bar/Bat Mitzvah dates – give our families a safe, predictable structure: A construct that is always shifting and changing on the surface, but that has roots that have been reaching down into the world for thousands of years. Happy Spring, and keep growing!

ToaSTY’s Tidings

May is here, the weather is more pleasant, and we are getting closer and closer to the end of our year for school and youth group activities. The year certainly went fast.

Last month, ToaSTY teamed up with the Hilltoppers and others to prepare and serve food at the Life Center shelter in Upper Darby. Once again it was a meaningful experience for us in ToaSTY and we want to thank everyone who helped out and gave of their time.

This is also the time of year when ToaSTY begins planning for next year. Since last month, members of the ToaSTY Board have begun coming up with ideas for the 2011-12 year, but we are still open to suggestions and we'd love to get your input. On Wednesday, May 18 from 5:30 PM - 7:00 PM, we invite all 7th-12th graders from Temple Sholom to join us for dinner in the Annex. It will be an opportunity to share ideas for making ToaSTY even better and to plan great events for the upcoming year. We are also looking for people in 9th - 12th grades who would like to take a leadership role in ToaSTY as an Executive Board member. If you want to join us for dinner, please send a quick RSVP via e-mail to toasty@temple-sholom.org.

May 13 - 15 is the annual NFTY-PAR Hagigah/Maccabiah weekend at Camp Harlam. This is a regional event open to all 8th-11th graders in the region including ToaSTY members. It is an Arts and Sports weekend and an alternative Shabbat experience. Registration information was sent out in April, but please contact us if you have any questions about this or any other regional NFTY events.

We don't get outdoors enough so join us because this is an event you don't want to miss!!

Don't forget to watch for other upcoming Youth events at Temple Sholom. New ones can pop up at any time. You can check up on us at Temple-sholom.org or check us out on Facebook at toasty@facebook.com. Remember please support youth programs at Temple Sholom by donating to the Youth Scholarship Fund. Women’s Spirituality

What do we say during our silent prayers? On Wednesday, May 25 at 7:30 PM in the Temple Library, please join us as Rabbi Leah Berkowitz helps us to explore the private prayers of men and women throughout Jewish history. Rabbi Berkowitz will guide us from the Rabbis of the Talmud to the Yiddish-speaking women of the Ashkenazic Jewish community. What were their innermost thoughts, fears and desires? How did they express them in a Jewish framework? And what can we learn from them as we formulate our own personal prayers?

Looking forward to June - Women’s Spirituality has planned a trip to the Philadelphia Museum of Art to see the Chagall Exhibit in the Perelman Building directly across from the main building. Mark your calendars for Wednesday, June 22 - if you wish, we will meet for lunch at the Perelman Café at noon and/or at 1:30 PM for the Chagall public tour. Tickets for just the Perelman Building can be purchased for $8 ($7 seniors). Any questions? Contact either Linda Tarash at linda.tarash@gmail.com or Gloria Kresch at kresch@verizon.net.

Discussion Group

The Temple Sholom Discussion Group will view and discuss the award winning Jewish film from 2009 “Me and the Jewish Thing - Mig og Jøderiet”

“Me and the Jewish Thing is a witty and thoughtful meditation on the collision of two cultures. Danish Jewish filmmaker Ulrik Gutkin and his Danish non-Jewish girlfriend find themselves on opposite sides in deciding whether to circumcise their new baby boy. What follows is Gutkin’s reconsideration what it means to be a Jew in Denmark, a country with a small and deeply assimilated community.” ~ The National Center for Jewish Film

Join us on Thursday evening, June 2 at the Slater’s home. Contact Bob Slater at bobnmarians@aol.com if you wish to be on the mailing list and are interested in learning more about this program and the Discussion Group.

One of the blessings Rabbi Rigler shared with our Preschool when he joined our congregation is the gift of Menschy Monkey. Our Preschool children clamor for a glimpse of Menschy Monkey. We have had parents request a Menschy Monkey home version. He is wildly popular. Rabbi Rigler has really made a connection with our preschooler families through Menschy Monkey.

Every child in our preschool has the honor of being a Shabbat Child. This year this special honor included a Shabbat kit that included a Menschy Monkey doll. Menschy Monkey went home with each child to look for things that are Jewish. Here are some examples of what he found.

- A Tzedakah Box
- Shabbat Dinner
- A Menorah
- Jewish Artwork
- A Mezzuzah

We are currently accepting applications for the 2011-2012 School Year. Contact our office at 610-886-2065 for details.

MITZVAH MEAL UPDATE

Are you interested in helping to alleviate hunger in the Delaware Valley? Temple Sholom members gather to help feed hungry people six times a year, at the Life Center shelter in Upper Darby. We are always looking for new volunteers.

Every night of the year, one to three hundred homeless and hungry individuals line up at the shelter for a meal prepared and served by local congregations and schools. Our turn occurs on the second Tuesday of every even-numbered month. Each of these six meals is organized by one of the Temple auxiliaries (Sisterhood, Choir, Brotherhood, Hilltoppers, Youth Group, and Board). But members outside these organizations are needed and welcomed.

This volunteer work can include financial contributions, purchasing supplies, baking casseroles or desserts, and/or serving dinner at the shelter. Volunteers report that the work is both enjoyable and heart-warming.

The next Mitzvah Meal is June 14 and is being coordinated by the Adult Choir. If you want to help, please contact Emily Freedman at emily.freedman2@gmail.com, or 610-449-2894.

VOLUNTEERS ALWAYS NEEDED!

June 14 - Choir
August 9 - Board of Trustees
May Bar Mitzvah

Eric Joseph Frank, son of Jerry Frank and Melissa Shusterman, will become a Bar Mitzvah on May 14. Along with his brother, Ezra, Eric will be joined in his celebration by great grandfather Murray Shusterman, grandparents Bob & Heidi Shusterman from Philadelphia, grandparents Jill Michaels and Al Zielenski from Vermont, the Dixon Family from Illinois, and the newest member of the family - first cousin baby Zachery, who was born on March 17. A Welsh Valley Middle School 7th grader, Eric is a red belt in Tang So Do, he plays the violin, and loves spending his summers at Roaring Brook Camp in Vermont, where he lives without electricity and practices blacksmithing and archery.

For Eric's Mitzvah Project, he fed homeless people sleeping in the subway corridors of Suburban Station, Philadelphia with a start-up organization named “My Poor Feat.” Eric woke up at 5:30 AM to go downtown on Sunday mornings to distribute coffee, sandwiches, and good will.

Eric's been at Temple Sholom since 3rd grade, and loves it.

Hospice: We Are A Caring Community

These are thoughts that have been sent to me in emails, but they seem to apply to Hospice, so I thought I would share a few of them.

I've learned that your life can be changed in a matter of minutes;
I've learned that even when you think you have no more to give, when someone cries out to you, you will find the strength to help;
I've learned that the people you care about most in life are taken from you too soon; and
I've learned that people will forget what you said, people will forget what you did, but people will never forget how you made them feel

Hospice is here for you, our Temple family. Please let us know how and if we can be of help to you. Your confidentiality is respected.
