SPAGHETTI DINNER IN THE SUKKAH ON OCTOBER 16

to Benefit the Life Center of Eastern Delaware County

How many of us eat our meals complacently while also worrying about how we as individuals can benefit the hungry and homeless among us? And, how many of us wish we could help, but feel that as just one person, we can't possibly make an impact?

Temple Sholom is offering us an opportunity to make a hands-on difference by inviting you to attend Spaghetti Dinner in the Sukkah on Sunday, October 16 from 5:00 PM to 7:00 PM. This fundraiser to benefit the Life Center of Eastern Delaware County promises to be a fabulous fun event.

Jim Shelton, Director of the Life Center of Eastern Delaware County will be our guest speaker. Jim will give us more details about how and why the Shelter is $100,000 in debt. Two shelters were closed last year, with two more in jeopardy of closing soon if additional monies are not received. Many religious institutions throughout Delaware County are joining in with this effort to save the shelters. According to Rabbi Peter Rigler, "Our goal is to raise several thousand dollars. If we're all in this together, we'll be able to save the shelters!"

Our dinner will be prepared and served by Brotherhood and Sisterhood members. Weather permitting you will also be fulfilling the mitzvah of eating a meal under the stars in the sukkah. Special music and a special services auction will be featured as well.

Just a sneak peak: already offered is a Saturday night of babysitting, and a ride to the airport. The sky's the limit! Offer your services ... and be prepared to bid on services being auctioned off.

The cost of food has been generously underwritten by an anonymous donor. All proceeds from the Spaghetti Dinner in the Sukkah will go to the Life Center of Eastern Delaware County. A minimum donation of $18 per adult and $8 for each child is requested for the delicious dinner! Larger donations are greatly appreciated.

Let's give what we can for this wonderful Mitzvah Project.

Please RSVP by Tuesday, October 11th.

For more information, and especially to volunteer, contact Donna Hendel at sisterhood@temple-sholom.org or Howard Cylinder at hcylinder@msn.com.

BARK, MEOW, TWEET, SQUEAK MITZVAH

October 30th 1:15 PM

It's the 2nd annual TS Bark Mitzvah as we honor our beloved pets. Judaism places great emphasis on proper treatment of animals. In honor of Shabbat Noach, join us on the Synagogue steps along with your favorite pet (seriously!) as we share a special service led by Rabbi Rigler.

Pets are invited to the service but for the protection of congregants with allergies and our facilities, they must remain outside of the main building and annex.

In case of inclement weather, check with the Office.

FROM THE DESK OF RABBI RIGLER

I missed the bulletin deadline this month (sorry Elyse!!!) ... perhaps it's because this is my season of writing sermons, letters, articles and more. Honestly maybe that's the problem with the Yamim (literally, "the Days" as in Days of Awe). They are so intensive, so time-consuming, so demanding that it is virtually impossible to focus on anything else. No doubt that is why the next holiday of Sukkot, which comes just five days after Yom Kippur, requires no thinking, just building. Torah calls it zman simchateinu - the season of our joy. For those of us in the synagogue world, this is the season of our joy, not because we're glad that the High Holy Days are over but because now the year really begins.

I'm convinced that Simchat Torah, the very last observance of the festival of the Sukkot season, really serves as a beginning. In ancient Israel Sukkot represented the end of the agricultural year. It was the autumn harvest. No more field work to be done (hence the "season of our joy"). But now that the work year is gone, what to do? How best to occupy one's time? My thinking is that this was when our ancestors turned to Torah and the beginning of the cycle of Torah reading. And for us that really does mean the season of our joy, because now we get to immerse ourselves in Torah. It's learning time.

Join us on Wednesday mornings at 10:00 AM as we study the Tanakh (our Bible). We also are offering a once a month Wednesday night class, sponsored by Jewish Life and Learning (JLL). This year I will be exploring Judaism; calendar, rituals and more. There is no end to the potential for learning ... find a time. Try something new!

With apologies to Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, Simchat Torah is as much the beginning of a new year as anything we know. It is truly a season to rejoice. Join us as we dedicate an entire year to Torah. "It is a Tree of Life to those who take hold of it."

CANTOR SHAPIRO'S NOTES

The Rabbis wrote: "When you are asked in the world to come, "What was your work?" and you answer: "I fed the hungry," you will be told: "This is the gate of the Lord, enter into it, you who have fed the hungry." (Midrash Psalms 118:17)

Sukkot is a holiday that speaks strongly to my Jewish soul. It draws upon the theme of impermanence (as symbolized by the sukkah). The idea that material wealth is of a greatly fleeting nature is stressed during this festival. We are called upon to make meaningful connections with our loved ones, friends and neighbors, and even with strangers.

During Sukkot at Temple Sholom in Broomall, the Brotherhood and Sisterhood are holding a Spaghetti dinner in the Sukkah to benefit the Life Center of Eastern Delaware County. We will also hold Sukkot Services, with a dinner in the sukkah to take place immediately beforehand. These events hearken back to a tradition of inviting ushpizin, or guests, into the sukkah. The invited guests are offered food and drink under the sukkah. The image invoked is that of our forebears, Abraham and Sarah, who are remembered as gracious hosts. We also liken the sukkah itself to a tent. It is a temporary structure and can serve as a reminder that while most of us have homes, there are those among us who do not.

Unfortunately, according to US 2000 Census Data, 11 percent of the U.S. population risks hunger every day. This means that 31 million people, including 12 million children, live in households that experience hunger or are at risk of hunger each day. While congregations like ours and other private charities provide help to the hungry, private assistance accounts for about 1/16th of the amount of government food assistance. The United States could cut domestic hunger in half within 2 years, and lead a global effort to cut world hunger in half by 2015, by spending approximately $7 billion more annually, or 7 cents per American per day.

I urge you to speak out about hunger, to reach out to our representatives in government and ask them to make hunger a priority. Also, if you don't already have one, consider making or bringing home a tzedakah box or pushka. Perhaps if everyone in our congregation put aside those 7 cents per person per day, we could make a statement about our group's commitment to hunger. And, who knows, we may be asked in the world to come what was our work. If so, we'll all be able to answer appropriately. If not, we can make a difference to real people in today's world.

Shalom,

~Cantor Shapiro

NEWS FROM THE OFFICE

Executive Director's Corner

Mazel Tov! Congratulations to our Dues Raffle, Street Sign & Parking Spot Auction winners!

This year Betty Graboyes won the Dues Raffle, the Samuels Family won the Street Sign Auction and the Gould Family won the Parking Spot Auction. How exciting! We thank these three families and all of you who participated in these fun fundraising opportunities.

Fundraising is an important part of our Temple Sholom Budget. We depend upon your additional financial support every year. You may be interested to know that membership dues comprise only one half of our annual revenue. Your support with our fundraising efforts throughout the year is truly needed and greatly valued. Whatever you are able to give (please know, we respect the fact that each of us gives according to our own levels of ability and comfort), your thoughtfulness and generosity help us to maintain a balanced budget and continue our endeavors to offer quality programs, events and services for you, our Temple Sholom community.

~Warmly, Abbey

THANK YOU TO ALL WHO RSVP PROMPTLY. IT MAKES EVENT PLANNING SO MUCH EASIER FOR OUR VOLUNTEERS AND STAFF.

Community News

The air is crisp and the synagogue is buzzing with excitement for the start of a new year. We have a tremendous selection of Fall programs. One thing I see as different from other years is that many of these events reach beyond the walls of our building or how we traditionally use our space.

- ★ We have several events taking place in the Sukkah including a brown bag dinner, Salsa in the Sukkah and Spaghetti in the Sukkah fundraiser to benefit the Life Center of Eastern Delaware County.
- ★ October 30th the front steps of Temple Sholom will serve as the site for the Honoring of our Animals (bring your favorite pet).
- ★ Through the end of October, our foyer resembles a vegetable farm stand as the Lancaster Farm Fresh deposits their weekly delivery in the lobby.
- ★ We take a virtual field trip to the airing of Humanities on the Road which was filmed at Temple Sholom in Broomall and can be viewing on PCN channel 186 (see details on page 16).
- ★ November 6th, while the Sisterhood Holiday Fair will take place in the main building, a book fair will occupy the Annex.
- ★ The Hilltoppers are sponsoring a Trip to the National Museum of American Jewish History (sign up now to reserve your spot!).
- ★ Brotherhood is sponsoring a Trip to the Holocaust Museum in Washington, DC (advance registration required).
- ★ The "Bring the Torah Home" program (the traveling Torah) is another wonderful example of how we are expanding our traditional use of space in order to engage our members and expand into our community with a special and meaningful approach.

And finally, don't forget to bring in canned goods for Philabundance by October 8th for ToaSTY's annual High Holy Day Food Drive!

MEMORY MAKER: LIZ Z. SUSSMAN

Our newest Memory Maker, Liz Z. Sussman, is so happy, and so busy making sure everyone around her is equally as happy, that there's barely a moment to chat with her! Most of the happy people are between 2 and 4 years of age, some are the parents of those children, and the rest is everybody connected to Temple Sholom in Broomall, because we all couldn't possibly be more delighted to welcome Liz as our new Preschool Director!

Liz comes to our Temple from the Kaiserman JCC, where she had been Preschool Director for six years. She is Pennsylvania Certified as a Preschool Director and Preschool Teacher. Liz continues to work as the Music Teacher, Songleader and Children's Choir Director at Keneseth Israel in Elkins Park where her husband, Rabbi Lance J. Sussman, is the Spiritual Leader.

With a Bachelor's degree in music education from the University of Bridgeport, CT, Liz earned her Masters in guidance and counseling from Xavier University in Cincinnati, OH. While studying for a year at Hebrew Union College in Israel, Liz met her husband in Jerusalem, where they were both studying Hebrew. Liz smilingly adds, "And we went back to Israel this year to celebrate our 34th anniversary!"

The Sussmans maintain very close ties with all five of their children. Living nearby in Springfield Township, is their oldest son Benjamin who is married to Kelly. They have two children, Sophie and baby Charlotte, who was just born last month! Josh lives in the Bronx, while Micah and Judah live at home while studying at Temple University. Their daughter Chana just graduated from Drexel and is preparing to take her LSATs. According to Liz, "We're such a close family that we walk in a huddle."

Liz says that she is delighted to take over the helm of the Etta Natalie Rosenblatt Preschool of Temple Sholom. "I am beyond happy to be here. In fact, I am thrilled," she notes. "It is the warmest and nicest. Every person has been nicer than the last." Liz joined the Temple Sholom family because of Rabbi Rigler. She explains, "We worked together for many years when Rabbi Rigler was my husband's associate. Being here gives me the opportunity to return to a Reform synagogue, and that's my whole life. I know and understand Rabbi Rigler's philosophy and how wonderfully he treats people."

Liz has found that the staff, people, and everyone connected to Temple Sholom are working with her toward a common goal. She says, "Our goal is to grow the school. We want the classes to be filled with happy children, whose parents are happy to have their children here." This coming year, the goal is to have four full classes. A new two-year-old class already has 10 children, and a toddler class for children aged 13 months to 23 months has been opened.

With five classes filled with toddlers, two-, three-, and four-year-olds, next year's hope in Fall 2012 is to open a Kindergarten class with children age five turning six. In all the classes, children learn through play. Liz's philosophy is for the children to "feel good about themselves. Our job is to nurture and build their self-esteem. We will accomplish this through music, art, playing, coloring, and storytelling." In addition to everyday learning, Liz will be the music teacher, with music offered once a week. Other "specials" include kinder gym, Israeli dance and immersion Hebrew, all on a regular basis. Liz muses, "And I'm thinking about bringing in extra specials such as a science specialist, a magic show and a puppet show. Hmmm ... maybe yoga for children?"

Watch for exciting news about summer 2012, when a preschool camp is in the works, featuring a theme of the week and wading pools!

Besides enlarging the School from two to four classes, the daily options have also increased. Early Care will be offered as early as 8:00 AM, and Late Care will be available until 6:00 PM. Every class is open five full days a week, giving parents the opportunity to choose full time care, certain days, or just mornings. Parents are invited to share programs for Thanksgiving, Hanukkah, Purim, Passover, and Israeli Independence Day. Next spring, students will celebrate for the first time a field day, in celebration of Lag B'Omer.

"We offer an open door policy to our parents," notes Liz, "and we hope they will join us to share a skill or talent."

So, why should preschoolers attend Temple Sholom's Preschool? "That's an easy question," laughs Liz. "Children who come here will learn, grow, and be happy. They will have the opportunity to make friends and thrive as part of this Temple Sholom community. Our families come from Broomall, Havertown, Wynnewood, and all over. It's easy to drive here whether you are only 5, 10, 15 or 20 minutes away."

The Preschool is not yet at capacity, with some space available in every room for additional students. Liz adds, "And all the classrooms are beautiful and clean!" She also praises her faculty: "All of my teachers have advanced degrees. They are all Jewish and some are Israeli. Our faculty works well together, and with me. We have already experienced much sharing and support."

A unique opportunity is being offered to the older students, who will work with Religious School Director Lori Green to understand that their Jewish education continues beyond preschool.

It's clear to see that the Etta Natalie Rosenblatt Preschool at Temple Sholom is already thriving under the capable hands of Liz Sussman. We look forward to watching the school grow and succeed under Liz's visionary direction.

The Memory Maker column is the brainchild of Barbara Clarke and Donna Hendel. It is through their time and effort we have the opportunity to get to know members of our Temple community.

A MESSAGE FROM THE BOARD

I must say that autumn is my favorite time of year. That first morning - when the crisp, cool air surprises us by replacing the heavier humidity of summertime - never fails to delight me. While seasonal changes happen throughout the year, it is never more evident than in the Fall. We change our clothes, digging out the sweatshirts and jeans from the back of the closet. We change our schedules, getting back into the groove of school and work and holidays. And as we are changing, all around us the world is changing, too. As if on cue, as we begin to change our colors to adjust to the season, so do the leaves on the trees creating a brilliant backdrop to the newness that surrounds us. It always feels exciting, fresh, and full of energy.

I love change. Without it, life would be rather boring.

Change gets our minds humming, our blood pumping, and makes our lives more interesting. Admittedly, not all change is good and change that is thrust upon us without warning can be scary and unsettling. But it can also be a wonderful thing. I have seen a great deal of change at Temple Sholom over the last three decades. It is certainly not the same place it was when I attended religious school here in the 1970's. Nor does it resemble the Congregation when Dave and I joined after we got married in the 1990's. And I guarantee you all that it will be a very different place in 2020 than it is today. With every year comes inevitable change. Positive change. But change nonetheless.

I have discovered in life that change is largely what you make of it. Rather than approaching it as something that is going to be disruptive and angst-inducing, I have always asked myself "what will I be able to learn from this?" And the opportunities to learn from change at Temple Sholom will be abundant this year. We have a wonderful new Cantor, Executive Director, Early Childhood Education Director and Youth Group Director all who are already bringing their talent, energy and enthusiasm to our congregation. There will be new programming this year, different ways in which we communicate with our members, and additional outreach to the broader Jewish community. We will welcome new members into our Temple family, each one helping to shape our congregation. With all these steps forward, we experience a change worthy of embracing.

One of the most exciting types of change we can experience is the change we create for ourselves. Each year at Temple Sholom, I try new activities and in doing so, meet new people and over time change the landscape of my life. Yes, these changes are small but like the autumn leaves, when placed together, they make for breathtaking view.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees and the Executive Committee, I encourage you to embrace the wonderful changes that are taking place at Temple Sholom – and while you're at it, change it up a little yourself and try something new here. Attend one of Rabbi Rigler's Jewish Life and Learning classes, volunteer to do a mitzvah, or join the choir! Be the change you want to see and you will never regret it.

B'Shalom, Emily Mendell

BE AN AMBASSADOR FOR TEMPLE SHOLOM'S NEW MEMBERS

Help us welcome our new members by easing their integration into our caring community as an ambassador of Temple Sholom. Help us build bridges that lead new members from feeling like strangers to feeling like part of the family. We are looking for active members of our community who are willing to reach out and embrace our newest members. Though a one-year commitment, we hope that the connections and bonds formed in the first year will encourage both the ambassadors and new members to continue their connections. While the Committee is starting to create a list of possible ambassadors, we would LOVE to have people step up and offer to be an ambassador without being called. Are you one of them?

This is an awesome, welcoming program that will benefit not only new members but also the participating ambassador. Interested?

RELIGIOUS AND HEBREW SCHOOL NOTES

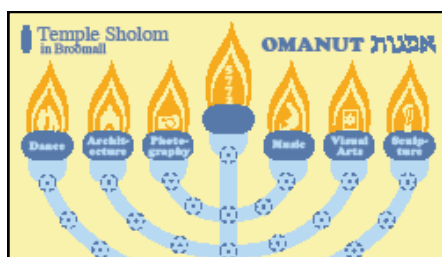

Around Our School ...

What a fabulous start to the school year we have had! With smiles and joyous laughter our students have begun a year of exploration and discovery of all that is wonderful in our tradition. With the sweet taste of honey on their lips our students learned about how the Jewish arts enrich our lives, welcomed the New Year – 5772, sang and celebrated.

The month of October is filled with even more holidays to experience and celebrate. From Yom Kippur to Sukkot to Simchat Torah, our classrooms will be filled with the sweet sounds of learning...and doing. We will celebrate our Kindergarten students with a special dinner and blessing as they are Consecrated on Wednesday, October 19th at our Simchat Torah Family Service. At that time we will also celebrate all of our new students with a special blessing.

And if the holidays don't keep you busy enough, make sure to mark your calendars for the exciting October special events outlined in the box below.

~Lori Green, Education Director

OMANUT! The Arts!

During the month of October, we will learn about Jews and photography. We will also focus on God's creations as we explore our world and capture through the lens what we have discovered.

In Hebrew, the word for photographer, tzalam, is drawn from the word for image, tzelem, as used in the Bible in Genesis, referring to humans being created in the image of God. But the connection is more than about words and their roots. Photography encompasses the art of noticing, of seeing deeply, being present and alive to the moment. In capturing light in stunning ways, or the essence and spirit of people, there's holiness too. For the viewer, the images have many layers of meaning, mysteries to decode.

Not only will our students learn about photography but also famous Jewish photographers such as Alfred Stieglitz, Paul Strand, Alfred Eisenstaed ... and others, as well. Our students will have multiple opportunities to use their new knowledge by exploring God's world through the lens of the camera.

Smiling faces!

A Few of My Favorite Things

The beginning of school is always a special time for all students. Whether your child is going to school for the first time or moving up to a higher class, there is always excitement, anticipation and an eagerness to get started. What is true in general about the beginning of school is particularly true for Preschool students and their families. When you are two or three or four years old, preschool plays a huge role in your life. Your teacher becomes one of your primary adult caregivers. Your friends help you define your world and your school activities are your personal great adventures.

Simply put, the beginning of preschool is a magical time for students, parents and staff. Gathering together, getting the school going again, decorating the rooms and the halls, reviewing the schedules, planning out special programs, practicing safety procedures, opening new learning materials and rearranging the furniture so classes flow smoothly are all part of the new year at school. But most of all, it is the arrival of the students and helping them learn about their new classrooms which makes the start of the school year so special.

Every child brings magic of his or her own to our program. For our part, we try our best to create a safe, nurturing, Jewish environment for our students. The sounds of laughing, the intensity of drawing and painting and the words of familiar songs are all part of the special mix of sounds and sights which combine to create a school community. For me, these moments are truly a few of my favorite things.

The year ahead promises to be a very special one for the Temple Sholom Preschool. It will be filled with wonderful moments, love and growth for our students and our school. Welcome back to school and have a great year!

See you real soon! ~ "Miss Liz," Early Childhood Director

LOBBY CAFÉ

Welcome back. It's time once again to ask for your help with running and baking for the Sunday Café. It's a great way to meet people and help out with the Religious School.

There are two Sunday morning shifts 9:00 AM to 11:00 AM and 11:00 AM to 1:00 PM

First shift sets up the Café with coffee, tea, hot water and baked goods (first shifts donates bagels from Original Bagel) and other baked goods. If you tell them they are for Temple Sholom in Broomall, the cost is $6 a dozen. Other suggestions for things to serve: donuts (a huge hit last year), soft pretzels, brownies, breads, cookies are welcome too.

Second Shift is also requested to bring baked or store bought goods for the Café. We also ask that second shift cleans up by approximately 12:45 PM.

Sunday Café Schedule for the Fall we need two people per shift: As coordinator, I will help fill in the schedule and line up volunteers if you are alone. We encourage parents, friends, and grandparents to get involved. Children may help as long as they are supervised by a parent or teen.

Choose from the following dates and please indicate which shift: 10/2, 10/9, 10/16, 10/23, 10/30, 11/13, 12/4, 12/11 or 12/18.

I want to thank everyone in advance for their assistance with the Café. Even if you can't help out on a Sunday, your homemade goodies or other donations are very much appreciated and always welcome.

Please call me at 610- 212-2400 (cell) or e-mail the date and time you want to work to: larkimseg@juno.com.

What follows is Gutkin’s reconsideration what it means to be a Jew in Denmark, a country with a small and deeply assimilated community.” ~The National Center for Jewish Film

HOSPICE IS HERE TO HELP!

For those of you who are unfamiliar with, unaware of or have forgotten about Hospice at Temple Sholom, here is a brief reminder of who we are and what we do.

Our Hospice group began approximately twenty years ago when twelve good, dedicated women decided to form a group to assist our congregants with the pressing problems of a terminal illness. We are now seven good, dedicated women (the same ones, though we lost a few to other programs) who have been professionally trained in hospice work, have attended many seminars and who have been together for all these years.

Our goals are many ... to supply informational books to young children, to help with medical supplies, if needed, to relieve the caregiver for a few hours of respite, to drive to a doctor appointment, to be a careful listener for the patient.

We have also been connected for many years to Taylor Hospice. We have given money for their library, have provided help in Hospice House, and have visited patients in their own homes as well as nursing homes.

We have sponsored several programs at Temple Sholom over the years, most notably Dr. Daniel Gottlieb, who has spoken on different subjects. We hope to continue to have interesting and informative speakers in the future.

Lastly, I hope that if a specific need arises, you will contact me, Barbara Smilk, Amy Berkowitz or the Rabbi or Cantor so that we may give aid and comfort to our Temple family. We cannot be of assistance if we are unaware of the problem.

Please do not hesitate to call me at 610-353-0840. I am always available to speak with you. Confidentiality is respected.

So Temple Sholom Sisterhood women, let's show those Temple Sholom Brotherhood men ... who really rocks around here!!!! See accompanying article.

We'll see you next on Tuesday, October 18 at our Welcoming Dinner, when Cantor Kerith Spencer-Shapiro will address us on "Women in the Cantorate." This event is for all Sisterhood members and new Temple Sholom women. Reservations are a must. See the accompanying invitation.

Our next exciting event together will be on Thursday evening, November 10th, when we convene at the Temple for "Jewish Artists at the Barnes." Well-known Barnes educator Linda Robinson, MFA, will give us a presentation that will certainly make us excited to tour the newly-opened Center City museum location in spring of 2012. Our program, open to the community, will feature a lovely reception after the lecture.

We value the input of all Temple Sholom women at our monthly board meetings. Please attend our next Sisterhood board meeting on Thursday, October 6th at 7:30 PM in the Temple Library. If you have any questions about the Holiday Bazaar, contact giffair@templesholom.org. A PEEK AT THE BARNES NOVEMBER 10 AT 7:30 PM

The theme for the year at Temple Sholom is Judaism and Art. With that in mind, the Sisterhood invites you to attend an evening lecture and slide show on Jewish artists in the Barnes Collection. We encourage you to take advantage of this stimulating and interesting lecture while the old Barnes Museum site is closed and the new Barnes Museum, set to open on the Parkway in early Spring 2012, has yet to open. So come and take a peek into the significance and connection of Jewish artists to the Barnes holdings.

Renowned docent and Barnes Educator Linda Robinson, MFA, our guest lecturer, is a member of the Barnes Foundation Education Department where she currently teaches the second year course entitled "Traditions of Art: Connecting Art and Artists Across Time." She is a well-known art lecturer throughout Pennsylvania. Ms. Robinson is the recipient of two national awards for excellence in teaching and two fellowships awarded by The National Endowment for the Humanities. She was also awarded the Nora Levin's Educator Award for outstanding teaching in Holocaust Studies and a museum fellowship at the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington.

Ms. Robinson will conclude her presentation with a question and answer period followed by refreshments. The evening has been generously underwritten by an anonymous donor.

All are welcome. Bring your friends.

The cost for the lecture and refreshments is $10 for Temple members and $12 for non-members. Reservations are recommended, although walk-ins are welcome!

Please RSVP by November 7 to sisterhood@temple-sholom.org. Questions? Contact Donna Hendel at 561-445-0021

THE TRADITION GROWS

SERVING THE GENERATIONS...

PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

Levine's new memorial chapel, Trevose, PA

For more than 117 years, the family-owned Joseph Levine & Son Memorial Chapel has maintained a high reputation for quality while serving generations in the Jewish community.

And now the tradition grows with our new Bucks County Memorial Chapel, in addition to our Philadelphia and Main Line locations.

Whether you need pre-arrangement assistance or time-of-need service, you can find it in any of our three convenient locations.

Our knowledge of and experience with Jewish traditions will insure that every detail of a funeral is handled efficiently, sensitively and at a most competitive rate. We are proud to offer the highest quality care.

Remember us. We are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to answer your questions and to help.
