SISTERHOOD SHABBAT
HONORING THE AMAZING WOMEN
OF TEMPLE SHOLOM

FRIDAY, APRIL 17 AT 8:00 P.M.
FROM THE DESK OF RABBI PETER RIGLER

Mah Nishtanah Halilah Hazeh ... Why is this night different from all other nights? This year more than any other I can remember I am dreaming of Passover! We had to change our plans and will now be in town with much of our family coming to be with us. We are not able to make the same meal we have in the past, but just being with family and sharing the holiday feels like such a blessing! We want to share a moment of relaxation and slowing down.

Relaxed!? you may be thinking to yourself. How can Passover be relaxed? What does the Rabbi know that we don’t?

I want to share one of my favorite teachings that is very much on my mind this year. Rebbe Nachman of Breslov teaches: “Pharaoh is whatever exerts pressure upon us. Our inner ‘Pharaohs’ are constantly pressuring us to get somewhere; we are always in a hurry. We are impatient and want to do it all now, instantly. This, too, is a form of enslavement we have yet to overcome. We have many things in our lives that cause us to suffer. Passover reminds us that we can be free of that pain.”

I don’t know about you, but I resonate deeply with Rebbe Nachman’s teaching. As Maya goes through this cancer journey we feel anything but relaxed! We are filled with worry and confusion. Our Pharaoh and suffering this year are easy to identify. I am guessing that we all have different versions of a similar story.

This Passover I want to invite us to consider Rebbe Nachman’s teaching and find ways to free yourself from the suffering burdens of life. Let’s slow down and pay attention. Let's not only say "we are free" but feel that freedom in our hearts, minds, and bodies. And perhaps even more importantly, let's consider how we can bring the rest, joy and slowness we create back into our daily lives, so that we might become more free from the stress and anxiety, rushing and pressure we might feel. Let us find more moments to pause, breathe, and appreciate - not just on Passover, but all the days of the year.

Blessings for a wonderful, meaningful and relaxed Passover,

~ The Rigler Family

I would like to add a little smile from our home to yours....

A British Jew is waiting in line to be knighted by the Queen. He is to kneel in front of her and recite a sentence in Latin when she taps him on the shoulders with her sword. However, when his turn comes, he panics in the excitement of the moment and forgets the Latin. Then, thinking fast, he recites the only other sentence he knows in a foreign language, which he remembers from the Passover seder:

"Ma nishtana ha layla ha zeh mi kol ha laylot."

Puzzled, Her Majesty turns to her advisor and whispers, "Why is this knight different from all other knights?"

TEMPLE SHOLOM ANNUAL PHONE-A-THON APPEAL

Thank you for supporting Temple Sholom’s Annual Phone-A-Thon Appeal. Your support continues to help maintain our vibrancy and financial stability by reducing the funding gap between our membership dues and the cost of all our many Temple programs. These include all of our Temple religious, holiday, music, and social action programs.

For those who have pledged, please remember to mail in your pledge card and your check. We look forward to thanking all the donors at a reception when the date is finalized.

BLUE TATTOO: DINA’S STORY ... JOE’S SONG A YOM HAHSOAH MEMORIAL

April 19 at 5:00 p.m.

Music has the power to touch both the mind and the heart. The song Blue Tattoo does that with passion and simplicity, and the new film Blue Tattoo: Dina’s Story, Joe’s Song tells the story behind the song. The idea for the song took root in 2007, when singer/songwriter Joe Crookston and Holocaust survivor Dina Jacobson met at her home in Elmira NY. They struck up a warm friendship, and the result, three years later, was Blue Tattoo.

Filmmakers Rich Kellman (Carol Rubin’s brother) and Marty Kerker began production on the story of Joe and Dina’s friendship and collaboration in 2012. Blue Tattoo:Dina’s Story, Joe’s Song premiered at the 2014 Buffalo International Jewish Film Festival on May 11, 2014.

Please call the Temple office for more information 610-356-5165. Contact Abbey Krain at director@temple-sholom.org if you are in need of special needs accommodations.
Passover is one of the most celebrated holidays among all Jews. That’s kind of an amazing fact given that Passover calls for a complicated ritual of reading, dipping, and extraordinarily plain crackers. But don’t let its popularity fool you: it’s really quite easy to have a truly boring seder.

Here are a few tips:

It’s important to keep your priorities straight. The most important commandment to fulfill on Passover is the retelling of the Exodus story - and what better way to do that than to read it in a foreign language that you don’t know? If you can’t read the letters, just guess at the sounds.

I highly recommend keeping the food bland. Avoid the typical meal of brisket and matzah ball soup and perhaps consider serving just matzah. For heaven’s sake, don’t put anything on it that might add flavor. Wine is great, but water with a little food coloring can do just as well without any chance of sugar or alcohol interfering.

In general, avoid songs, jokes, and any attempt at teaching or learning. All children should remain seated and silent throughout the evening. Don’t let them ruin your lovely table setting by touching any of the food or ritual items on the table. They should definitely not participate in any way.

And to really take the fun away, make sure to hide the afikomen in plain sight, preferably in front of a child who will not be allowed to touch it (because, you will recall, they are to remain seated and silent throughout the meal).

From my family to yours!

Counting Our Days Making Our Days Count

From Passover to Shavuot, Jews around the world count down the 49 days from freedom to revelation. More than just counting our days, how do we make our days count? Join us on our Facebook page each week between Passover and Shavuot for a study text and discussion question on making a meaningful life. Questions are posted each Monday starting on April 6.

#TempleSholomCounts
Dear Friends,

As the weather is now warm and inviting, we are all out and about meeting new people and visiting with family, friends and neighbors. At Temple, this is now a great time to think about Temple membership and inviting others to come in and check us out. You good word to others is the best way to maintain and increase our membership. This is our goal and we need each and every one of you to help us in this important endeavor.

When we invite others into our Temple community, we help to feel welcome and experience the warm, vibrant and inclusive community that we are. Please let me know if you know of any prospective members. Send me their contact information; it will be my pleasure to reach out to them and invite them to Temple Sholom.

Thank you for taking the time to spread the word about all that we are and all that we have to offer. Bringing others to our community is the best way to ensure our vibrant existence and our future.

~ Warmly, Abbey Krain
director@temple-sholom.org

It may seem early to you, but we are already in the midst of planning the 2015 - 2016 Temple Sholom calendar. We begin with the High Holy Day scheduling. Then I send a letter to all families with children celebrating a Bar or Bat Mitzvah from September 2015 - June 2016 asking them that if they want to rent space at Temple Sholom following their child's service to let me know so I can reserve the room for them and avoid any potential scheduling conflicts. Next, I reach out to all of the auxiliaries about the calendar planning system and a time line of the process. So, if there is a program you would like to see next year, now is the time to talk to an auxiliary chair or share your thoughts with me. All of our programming is done with a great deal of thought in terms of how it fits into the Temple Sholom mission statement, Jewish values, the content of the program, the audience, the cost, and logistics, to name a few factors we consider. We also need to ensure that events aren't too similar and do not overlap or cannibalize each other. This is just a hint of what goes into creating the strong and diverse calendar of special services and programs that we are able to offer at Temple Sholom.

Meanwhile, we have a number of wonderful programs coming up including:

April 4
Second Night Seder: A joyous community event (RSVP required)
April 10
Tot and Family Shabbat Services
April 11

April 12

Board Greetings

The Etta Natalie Rosenblatt Preschool staff and students, along with the Excellence in Early Childhood Education Committee (ECEC) led by Chair Cindy Korenberg, have been hard at work this year. The program continues to grow by leaps and bounds, and the 2014-2015 academic year witnessed numerous improvements both to the program and the facilities.

In February, Preschool Director Liz Sussman proudly announced that the Preschool received a Level Two Star rating from the prestigious Keystone Stars accreditation program. The accreditation process required several months of preparation and speaks to the high quality program offered at Temple Sholom. The children have been learning about Jewish holidays and culture in addition to learning through play based activities and songs. Special events such as science presentations by “Nature Jack” round out the curriculum.

A high quality program with increasing enrollment requires facilities to match. The Preschool currently has 65 children enrolled, having doubled in size over the past four years. At the Temple Sholom Board’s request, Liz Sussman and the members of the ECEC launched an ambitious fundraising campaign last summer to support the Board’s larger vision for the building and grounds. The ECEC established a permanent fund to manage ongoing contributions and support future projects and learning opportunities for the children. To date, the Preschool has raised over $10,600 between direct gifts and fundraisers, including a family night at Pizzeria Uno and a Thirty-One Gifts promotion.

In cooperation with the Board of Trustees, Executive Director Abbey Krain, and Building & Grounds Committee Chair Vera Newman Sachs, the ECEC spent the majority of the 2014-2015 year focused on enhancing the playground and outdoor education spaces. The Preschool purchased new wooden fencing, play and garden equipment, and is in the process of adding a safer, permanent rubberized playground floor to replace the current mulch flooring (installation is scheduled for spring break). The family of founding member Sara Shapiro made a generous donation in her honor earmarked for landscaping and outside improvements, and the Building & Grounds Committee assumed able stewardship of the improvement initiative. This committee, in conjunction with the benefactor, allowed a generous portion of the funds to be used towards the purchase of the new playground flooring and fencing. The Preschool program deeply appreciates the continued support of the congregation and larger community.

In addition to improving the facilities, the staff and ECEC have been focused on building community. The ECEC held a well-attended parent mixer at the home of Katie and Wes Gray in October as well as a Mom’s Night Out at the Crazy Sofa, and a social fundraiser in the Temple’s multipurpose room on December 25. Preschool families are regularly participating in the Tot Shabbat services as well.

Inclusion Committee News

The Inclusion Committee is hard at work to fulfill the Temple's mission to be as inclusive as possible so that people of all abilities can fully participate in our community. Now available for people with visual challenges are magnifying pages to use with prayer books and other reading materials. There are several of these pages in the Sanctuary on the prayer book stands, and two are located in the Library by periodicals. Please be sure to return these pages after using them so that others can use the when needed. We are researching a closed captioning system, and learning more about a looping system to assist people with hearing impairments. Thanks to donations to the Inclusion and Special Needs Fund, we will be providing a gift to the Preschool Playground Committee for the purchase of equipment for children with sensory or mobility challenges so that they, too, can enjoy the playground. We continue to work with all committees and groups who plan events and programs to assure that these activities are as accommodating as possible so that anyone of any ability can participate. Please so not hesitate to ask for special needs accommodations.

Please contact Regina Levin at 610-715-1745 or r.k.levin@comcast.net if you have any suggestions, requests or concerns about special needs issues.

A very special Sisterhood Shabbat will take place this year on Friday evening, April 17. The theme is L’Dor V’Dor, and we will be honoring our Sisterhood members both past and present.

We’re particularly delighted to be honoring our past presidents, many of whom remain active members of Temple Sholom and Sisterhood. A representative from Women of Reform Judaism will also join with us in celebration that evening. And, as if that’s not enough to be celebrating, we will also be honoring our very newest Sisterhood member Shirley Chalick, for her special birthday.

The service has been created under the careful planning of Chairperson Barbara Barr along with Cantor Jamie Marx. Sisterhood members, ably accompanied by the musical talents of our choir, will lead portions of the service.

Please join us on April 17 and show your support for Sisterhood.

Even before Sisterhood Shabbat, another event will take place during April. This is an extremely important happening, according to your co-presidents Fran and Donna. We’re talking about the Sisterhood Extended Planning Meeting on Thursday, April 9 at 7:00 p.m. in the Multipurpose Room. Refreshments, prizes and surprises are part of the evening. Remember, our Sisterhood is for YOU! Please continue to make it so.

At our Extended Planning Meeting, we will offer program suggestions for the upcoming year. Please bring your ideas, too, and we will vote on the proposals. You can be sure we will do our best to carry out the programs that are in the best interests of our Sisterhood membership. We hope to include programs that are educational, uplifting, thought provoking, of benefit to the Temple, the WRJ, the URJ, Israel, and the world. Let’s try to throw in lots of fun, too!

Our Sisterhood Theater Party will take place Sunday, May 3, when we go together to the matinee showing of Respect, at Penn’s Landing Playhouse. It is supposed to be hilarious. For those interested, come early and join us for lunch at Keatings. Contact Deb Kirsch for more details and to secure your reserved seat at dkirsch2788@icloud.com.

Our Closing Dinner this springtime will be held on May 13th. For a change, we will be offering a catered dinner in the Multipurpose Room at the Temple. We promise you entertainment galore, although we haven’t yet received confirmation of a repeat appearance from Tina Fey and Amy Poehler. No news yet, either, on whether the Millennial Players will be returning.

What? Could it be? Sisterhood will be holding a huge event AFTER our Closing Event this year – on Sunday, June 7. This will be an Attic Treasures Sale, and we promise you never-before-imagined bargains and treasures. The phrase, “One person’s donation is another person’s treasure,” will never ring more true than at our Attic Treasures day on June 7.

Last month, we participated in the Leprechaun Run to benefit Special Olympics Pennsylvania. In addition to several members lending their financial support, Team Sholom included (from left): Lisa, Adam and Jordan Schubert and Donna Hendel.

Team Sholom braved drenching weather conditions to walk in support of Sisterhood’s current social action cause: Special Olympics Pennsylvania. In addition to several members lending their financial support, Team Sholom included (from left): Lisa, Adam and Jordan Schubert and Donna Hendel.

Who Save Us, by Jenna Blum. These are changes, so please make note of them.

Not certain of the appropriate way to honor or memorialize friends and loved ones? Our Temple Sholom in Broomall Sisterhood offers Jewish National Fund Trees at a price much lower than other congregations. Sisterhood also sells Happiness and Memorial Cards to make your commemorations of life’s events easier.

Not only are both of these services acknowledged in the monthly Tidings edition, but you will receive a note as the sender. Our Sisterhood representative for both these services, Shirley Birenbaum, is the woman who sends out Tree Certificates and the Cards. Your price includes your personalized note and the postage. You may phone her at 610-328-2171, or email her with your order at surabassa@aol.com. Shirley will explain how to arrange payment.

Be sure to do some browsing in The Gift Garden during April. There is a special promotion on jewelry. Many of you have complimented Donna and Fran on their earrings. We’re proud to say that some of our prettiest earrings have come from Temple Sholom’s Gift Garden. Jewish wedding gifts and Bar and Bat Mitzvah presents are always available at reasonable prices, too.

Calendar of Events for Sisterhood:

- April 9: Sisterhood Planning Meeting - be “in” on the action (win prizes, too!)
- April 17: Sisterhood Shabbat, L’Dor VaDor
- May 3: Theater Trip to see Respect
- May 13: Closing Dinner/Event
- June 7: Attic Treasures Day!

Please contact us with questions, comments or anything else at sisterhood@temple-sholom.org. It’s always great to hear from you.

Our Sisterhood is YOUR Sisterhood. Work with us, learn with us and hang out with us!

The Hilltoppers Learn All About Charlie Chaplain

On February 19th the Hilltoppers once again enjoyed a lively presentation by Dr. Moylan Mills. Dr Mills is the former Head of the Pennsylvania State University Integrative Arts and former Director of Academic Affairs.

Despite it being bitterly cold, thirty-two people came to hear Dr. Mills talk about Charlie Chaplin. They were not disappointed! He showed many short clips and spoke about the life of the actor. After his presentation, Dr. Mills also took the time to answer the many questions audience members had. A wonderful time was had by all. As always, delicious refreshments followed.

Sisterhood Book Club

Sisterhood Book club will be meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Michelle Cooperstein on May 14 to discuss:

The Jujitsu Rabbi and the Godless Blonde (a memoir), by Rebecca Dana

Book Synopsis:

Rebecca Dana worshipped at the altar of Truman Capote and Nora Ephron, dreaming of moving to New York. After college, life in the city turned out just as she’d planned: glamorous parties; beautiful people; the perfect job, apartment and man. But when it all comes crashing down, she is catapulted into another world.

She moves into Brooklyn’s Lubavitch community, and lives with Cosmo, a young Russian rabbi and jujitsu enthusiast. While Cosmo faces his disenchantment with Orthodoxy, Rebecca finds that her religion—the books and films that made New York seem like salvation—has also failed her. Shutting between the worlds of religious extremism and secular excess, faith and fashion, Rebecca goes on a search for meaning.

A mix of Shalom Auslander and The Odd Couple, Jujitsu Rabbi and the Godless Blonde is a thought-provoking tale for the twenty-first century.

Please RSVP to alissamgm@aol.com by May 7th.

The results are in! We had the perfect Purim again this year at the Temple Sholom Preschool. The children had wonderful costumes! We had a parade of Esthers, Mordecais, ballerinas and super heroes! There were lots of three-cornered Hamantashen and sang fun, interactive Purim songs. Every time we mentioned the name of the evil Haman, we booed and made lots of noise! “Be happy, it’s Adar,” our tradition teaches us about the Jewish month in which Purim falls. This year, our Preschool’s Adar-Purim celebrations were very, very happy!

Even though there’s still snow outside, it’s time to sign up for summer camp at the Temple Sholom! Fun and sun are guaranteed not to mention games, arts and crafts and lots of singing! For more information about Summer 2015, please call or email. Registration for the next school year has also started. Classes tend to fill up quickly so we encourage you to tell all your friends with children from 1 year to kindergarten to get their registration in.

Coming up this month is the greatly anticipated Preschool Passover celebration. No sooner than we finished telling the story of our ancestors in Persia, we start getting ready “to leave Egypt” and learn about the Exodus, matzah and how we walked through the sea on dry land. But that’s a long story and we will have to get back to you next month to complete that tale! Looks like we are headed toward a perfect sea-splitting Passover at Preschool!

Hello Everyone! Welcome to spring!! This past March, ToaSTY, Temple Sholom and I got to experience something awesome: we hosted NFTY-PAR elections for the upcoming 2015-2016 calendar year. For those that don’t know, NFTY-PAR is the National Federation for Temple Youth (NFTY) and our region, Pennsylvania Area Region (PAR). It was truly an honor and privilege to host this year. We had over 60 teens at Temple Sholom that weekend to take part in the voting of the new board. It was so awesome to see all the teens react to seeing each other again at a NFTY event and the bonds that they share from events and years past. I know it was a long day, but we prevailed and stuck it out and every one had a good time voting and socializing with one another. For me, it was a lot of fun, because I got to see the other Regional advisors and talk about different events and how each of us are doing in our respective positions, as well as watching the amazing teens give speeches and vote on whom they believe would be the best fit for the newly elected board.

Thank you first and foremost to our amazing teens who always show up big for Temple Sholom and who came out and supported us as we hosted this year and took part in the yearly voting for board elections! Thank you to Emily Mendell, who came to speak to over 60 teens from the PAR region and welcome them to our synagogue for the day! It is always nice to have the support of not only our Temple President, but the mother of two of our ToaSTY teens speak on behalf of our congregation and express how teens are the future of Judaism. Thank you to our clergy, Rabbi Rigler and Cantor Marx who stopped by to check out the elections and say hi to everyone! Thank you to Abbey Krain who always works so hard to make everything special and worked with me to make sure the day would run as smooth as possible; I don’t know what I would do without you! And of course our amazing custodial staff in Bob and Sal who set up and took down for me, you guys are truly amazing! Thank you everyone for making it a truly amazing and special day at Temple Sholom, not only for us, but for NFTY-PAR as well!

Congratulations to the newly elected NFTY-PAR Board! I hope you enjoyed the weekend as much as we did!

If you have any questions, or would like to get involved or just say hi, please send an email to toasty@temple-sholom.org, we love hearing from you!

B’Shalom,

~ Joanna Gould, ToaSTY
Youth Group Director
It’s Spring (finally)! The trees are in bloom, the birds are singing and we are all emerging from the grip of a long and cold winter. Ah…the freedom of shedding those heavy coats and the confines of being indoors.

The emergence of spring also brings with it the holiday of Passover. Did you know that Passover is one of four New Year’s days in the Jewish calendar? Occurring during the Hebrew month of Nisan, this time of year is mentioned both in Exodus and Deuteronomy. Why is this considered a new year? The answer lies in the fact that the Exodus, resulting in the freedom of the Israelites, is considered by many to be the founding of the Jewish people.

In the Haggadah we read of the Four Sons: the Wise, the Wicked, the Simple and the “One Who Does Not Know What to Ask.” Rabbi Sandford Kopnick from the Valley Temple in Cincinnati offers a wonderful interpretation of this portion of the Haggadah:

“While many of us seek to identify our children in one of these ways, the Haggadah is reminding us that all of our children learn differently. The Haggadah, and the Seder, therefore, must address the needs of all our children: the academic and the academically challenged; the disabled and the able-bodied; the mild and the extremely active. It’s not about giving our children labels, but rather understanding that the story is important enough to embrace all learning styles – not just the easiest to teach.

And so it is with all that we want to impart to our children. May we always remember that allowing our children to learn according to their gifts enables learning, while forcing a particular style upon them, might only communicate our impatience or lack of respect for the wonderful people they are. May we take the essence of this Haggadah passage to heart when we help our children find their voice as people and as Jews.”

Camp Day at Rimon!

Camp? During Sunday Rimon? Yes…it’s true! With many thanks to our Camp Harlam intern and faculty member, Galen Newman, all of the Sunday Rimon children had a blast as we enjoyed a day of camp activities, sing-downs and of course, milk and cookies. Camp Harlam rocks!
April B’nai Mitzvah

Joshua Eli Kleiman, son of Amy and David Kleiman, will become a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, April 18. He will be joined by his sister Abby and brother Sam, grandparents Marcia and Jack Kleiman and Rhoda Tagliacozzo and Ken Leffler, along with many uncles, aunts, cousins, teachers from Josh’s school, and many friends.

A Springton Lake Middle School 7th grader, Josh is an Honors student, and plays trumpet in the band and guitar in the jazz band. He takes guitar lessons and loves to write his own music. Josh is an avid concert attender. He loves music of the 60s, 70s, right up to current music.

For his Mitzvah Project, Josh goes to Martin's Run Retirement Community on Sundays (and some Friday afternoons) with his guitar. He plays music and sings with the residents in The Meadows. Many of the residents there have memory impairment and some do not remember Josh from week to week, but are always so excited to see “the boy with the guitar.” Josh connects with many of the senior citizens and learns songs that they loved to sing, so that they can all sing together. Josh also sits with the residents and chats before and after playing his guitar. He uses his love of music to relate to individuals who aren't always able to communicate in words. The residents love having him sit next to them so they can ask him questions about his music and his Bar Mitzvah. Josh also listens to stories about the lives of some of the people at Martin's Run. Both he and the residents there seem to gain a great deal from the sharing of these stories and experiences.

Isabella Bascome, daughter of Lori and Robert Bascome, will become a Bat Mitzvah on April 25. Friends and family from California, Florida and New York will be joining local friends here to share in her special day.

A Paxon Hollow Middle School 7th grader, Isabella enjoys playing field hockey, softball, and swimming. For her Mitzvah Project, Isabella cooked for the homeless and also shadowed teachers in special needs classroom at her school.

DISCUSSION GROUP

The Temple Sholom Discussion group met on Sunday, February 15th at Shirley and Marty Birenbaum’s home. The snow and bitter cold could not stop at least 15 of the intrepid members. Race relations post-Ferguson was discussed. We had more analysis than easy answers. Indeed if there was any conclusion it was the lack of easy answers. There were certainly no answers that could be reduced to a slogan.

Involvement of the black, white and other minority communities, the police, schools, churches, will all have to play a role. Change in behavior rather than assigning blame may be more helpful but is a difficult, long slow task. The mood however was not one of resignation but hope. More positive interactions between the police and the policed is needed and a police force that racially resembles the community we felt are important first steps.

Rabbi Sigal Brier’s program will be about Mending Gaps: Religion & Spirituality.

Why do so many of us struggle with religious experience which lacks spirituality, creativity and joy? How did today’s religion drift away from the original spiritual roots of religion? Why is it important to work toward healing our discontents with religion?

Come and hear Rabbi Sigal, a mystic and a scholar, speak about how she rediscovered religion as art.

She will share views from the lenses of history, of spirituality, and of mysticism.

All women who are members of Temple Sholom are welcome to meet with us on Wednesday, April 22nd. Our evening will start at 6:25 p.m. in the Sanctuary with quiet reflection and meditation led by one of our members. At the conclusion of the meditation we will move to the library to begin the program Mending Gaps: Religion & Spirituality with Rabbi Sigal.

You are welcome to join us in the Sanctuary at 6:25 p.m. or you can meet us in the library at 7:30 p.m. We look forward to sharing this evening of religion and spirituality with you.

Reserve the date: May 14th 10:00 a.m. Women’s Spirituality will have our program at Ridley Creek State Park. This year’s them is: Shavout in the Park. Rain date: Monday, May 18th. We will be going out to lunch after the program. Look for more details in the May Temple Tidings.

Wednesday Morning Meditation

As we bid good-bye to the cold of winter and look forward to the warmth of spring, Jewish Meditation at Temple Sholom invites you to join us in the Temple Annex on Wednesday mornings between 9:30 a.m. and 10:15 a.m. As new blooms begin to appear, you are welcome to become a part of our circle and discover how the calming experience of meditation can blossom and enrich your day.

Jewish Meditation continues to meet in the Temple Annex on Wednesday mornings between 9:30 a.m. and 10:15 a.m. Meditation can balance our busy lives and open a doorway to compassion, gratitude, inner joy and peace. The practice can teach us to direct our attention into the present moment.

Become a part of our circle and enjoy the experience of starting your morning with meditation on Jewish teachings and prayers. You might find that spending this time can make a difference in your entire day. There is a seat waiting for you. Everyone is welcome. Join us once, once in a while or every time we meet. No prior meditation experience is required.

Meditation Dates to Remember for the Month:

April 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29

When: Wednesdays 9:25 a.m. - 10:15 a.m.

Where: Temple Sholom Annex

We look forward to you becoming a part of our circle.

Pre-Shabbat Meditation

The next Monthly Shabbat Meditation in Temple Annex will be on May 22 - 7:00 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. before the Friday night Shabbat Service

Shabbat has the power to refocus our lives. On Shabbat, meditation can be a particularly rewarding experience since it takes you into a state of timelessness. By joining our group meditation in the hour immediately before our Friday evening service, you may find a new and more meaningful way into Judaism. Something powerful is added when meditating with others.

Jewish meditation offers a profound spiritual experience that can enrich our daily lives. Many have found that it provides a new way into Judaism. Meditation can help focus our minds and become more spiritually aware.

Whether you are new to meditation or are familiar with meditation, everyone is welcome to make this a part of your Shabbat practice. Why not take some time to join us in the Temple Annex on the fourth Friday of the month and become a part of our warm circle of Shabbat meditators.

PLEASE NOTE: We will NOT be meeting in April. We look forward to coming together in the Temple Annex on May 22nd.

Please check the Friday announcements for information or changes that might occur.

We wish to thank everybody who participated in, helped with, and/or attended the first (annual?) Temple Sholom Art Shabbat in memory of Barbara Blinder. This event, and several more to come, were made possible by the family of Barbara Blinder. Several of her artworks are on display in our Annex, and one print was featured in this show.

We had very good attendance. People came to see art that has been created by more than a dozen Temple Sholom members. The work included paintings, photographs, sculptures, woodworking, ceramics, needlework, collage, glass, quilting, mosaics and gold leaf, to name just some of the mediums that were represented. We started with wine, cheese, crackers and fruit, and later we called on each artist to introduce themselves and give a short talk about their work. This was great because everybody got to find out who created which pieces, and hear fascinating stories about themselves or about their creations.

Due to a Saturday Bat Mitzvah and Sunday's Purim Carnival scheduled to take place in the aptly-named multipurpose room, we had to take down the whole display at the end of the delicious Oneg. We might try to arrange the next show so that we can leave it up a little longer!

We wish to express our gratitude to all of the artists and all of the Art Shabbat Committee members for working hard to make this event possible in spite of the season's biggest snowstorm on the day that everything was supposed to be delivered. Everybody's flexibility was much appreciated. Special thanks go out to David Learner-Wagner and Sam Isle, who were volunteered by their families to spend many hours Friday afternoon helping to hang the art and get everything ready.

~Lisa Learner & Richard Wagner, Co-Chairs of the Temple Sholom Art Shabbat Committee

Committee Members:
Tim Isle, Rhoda Kapner, Barbara Litt, Berte Rosin, and Ellie Segal

A delicious thank you to Purim Hamantaschen bakers Lisa Pottiger and Shannon Farmer. We are genuinely appreciative of your sweet and tasty handiwork.

Many thanks to the cast and crew of this year’s Purim Shpiel. Despite the weather and only four rehearsals, our Sphiel was enjoyed by all!

A Very Disney Purim - Such Fun!
PURIM CARNIVAL Recap

It appeared that the annual Purim Carnival was quite a hit!!! Many got into the mood by parading around in their finest costumes. To add to the festivities, Rachel T, Jen & Sophia I created many fabulously decorated faces.

While the games remained the same - back by popular demand - there were some new additions Rebecca S brought in for the preschool aged children. Galen, Chase M, Matt, Cali H, Eric F, Nathan K, Arden, Mike, Gillian & Erica W, Pablo, David, Jacob & Joe P, Beth & Eliana C, Rebecca B, Sam I, Gloria, Jona L, Emma, Cassie, Michael H, Dona, Julia H, Ahab, and Anna W all helped make ticket sales and stations run smoothly.

Liz and her daughter Ava did a bang up job updating the prize room. Many times we overheard the kids saying there were so excited to spend their Haman dollars on the "awesome" prizes. Marie G and Vicky were so helpful in setting up and helping the kids make their selections.

Beth H did a remarkable job with getting many to donate for the bake sale. The table was arranged beautifully with an array of scrumptious treats. A huge hand to those who made the delicious baked goods. The homeroom parents did a great job setting up and staffing our food station. Thanks for stepping up to the task of filling our bellies.

We thought we would change it up a bit and get some entertainment. We brought in Barb McGill, a hypnotist. She had a few congregants "under her spell." We hope you enjoyed a bit of the unusual and found it amusing.

All in all, it was a wonderful event and we thank all of those whose volunteered to make this a memorable day.

~ Mindy Haenn

LASTING FRIENDSHIPS AT TEMPLE SHOLOM

Matt Stern, son of Andi Stern, was recently the musical director of The Music Man at a community theatre in Wellesley, Massachusetts. His leading lady, Marian the Librarian, none other than Rabbi Leah Berkowitz, daughter of Amy and David Berkowitz. We love that our kids keep the connections going, no matter where they are. The bonds formed at Temple Sholom truly run deep.
