FROM THE DESK OF RABBI PETER RIGLER

This Month we celebrate Yom Ha'atzmaut, it's the 68th anniversary of the founding of the State of Israel. I am excited to share a fantastic festival here with our entire community, and I want to delve a little deeper into our relationship with Israel in this month's article.

Israel never had an easy opportunity to create a firm and strong foundation on which to build the state. From the outset, from day one, Israel has absorbed, and continues to absorb, millions of Jews from every place on earth. Israel continues to be the place that Jews want to go, not only for a visit but to escape persecution and anti-Semitism. Israel has understood from the beginning that its role would be, first and foremost, to care for and protect her own. Israel cares for her own because no one else will care for Jews other than Jews. There is no place in the world, other than Israel, where Jews can be assured that they will be welcomed, safe and secure. This reality is part of Israel's context.

Israel has also of course, been at war, nearly non-stop, with her neighbors. Israel, as we say, is a great place located in a bad neighborhood. The celebration of Israel's birth is accompanied by a sense of weariness and wariness that comes from living in a world that is openly and unabashedly hostile to her existence.

According to the Rambam in Sefer Ha-Mitzvot (p. 205), not only may we criticize and rebuke a friend, but we are required rebuke our friends, if we see them doing something ill-advised or dangerous. Indeed, according to Maimonides, "it is every person's duty to criticize or rebuke" their neighbor if they see them going on the wrong path. To say, therefore, that criticism of Israel is a sign that one does not support Israel is not only silly, it is dangerous. If you believe your friend is headed in the wrong direction and you don't criticize them, you have transgressed!

But, this command to rebuke comes with its own guidelines. Rebuke and criticism must be made in a loving way, in a way that preserves the dignity of your friend, in a way that is intended not to hurt but to steer the other back to a better path. When one rebukes or criticizes Israel using words like "Nazi" or "Apartheid," one speaks not out of love or care, but out of ignorance, willful blindness and/or unvarnished hostility. Reasonable people can disagree regarding the solution to this problem, but each of us should see the moral danger and inequity that this situation causes. But what a friend cannot do is to criticize Israel alone. Any concept of fairness requires that some of the blame be placed squarely on the Palestinians for their refusal to negotiate any compromise, for their refusal to renounce violence or to recognize Israel's right to exist.

In our friendship with Israel, in my love for Israel, there is something deeply profound and spiritual. For me, Israel is so deeply engrained in my being that, admittedly, it is not possible for me to claim total objectivity. I feel, on a regular basis, the pain which is part of being a friend of Israel. But when I am not in Israel, an event which occurs here can, without warning, transport me to Israel: a song, an image, something as small as the prick of a pin can carry my thoughts to Israel. As the psalmist put it: Im Eshkachech Yerushalayim,— If I forget Thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand lose its cunning. For me, this verse is constantly on my mind.

The author, Jonathan Safran Foer, expressed this sentiment more eloquently than I can in his novel Everything is Illuminated (p. 198):

Jews have six senses: touch, taste, sight, smell, hearing...memory. While Gentiles experience and process the world through the traditional senses, and use memory only as a second-order means of Interpreting events, for Jews memory is no less primary than the prick of a pin, or its silver glimmer, or the taste of the blood it pulls from the finger. The Jew is pricked by a pin and remembers other pins. It is only by tracing the pin prick back to other pin pricks – when his mother tried to fix his sleeve while his arm was still in it, when his grandfather's finger fell asleep while stroking his great grandfather's damp forehead, when Abraham tested the knife point to be sure that Isaac would feel no pain – that the Jew is able to know why it hurts. When a Jew encounters a pin, he asks: What does it remember like?

Certainly, I do not see Israel as being right all of the time. But for me, Israel does receive the benefit of the doubt. For me, the context of the State of Israel, its constant need to defend herself, the multiple threats and challenges she faces must be kept in mind always. For me, the internal issues that challenge the moral and ethical underpinning of Israel's own stated goals cannot be overlooked even as we support Israel. For me, to identify Israel's shortcomings is most legitimate and credible when we commit simultaneously to work, to help repair that which is broken. For if one sees only that which is broken, and does not engage in the work of tikkun, one can easily forget why fixing it is so important.

For me, a friend of Israel feels:

- ♦ Gratitude in the fact that Israel exist,
- ♦ Pride in all that she has accomplished,
- ♦ Concern for the challenges she faces,
- ♦ Awareness of the never-ending threat which Israel faces.
- ♦ And a friend of Israel feels Israel's pain.
- ♦ To be a friend means never to lose hope: the hope for a better life, for an end to war and the hope that the time will come soon and all who live there shall live in peace.

As we try and build bridges and connect with Israel I was deeply concerned to hear that the Israeli Consulate is leaving Philadelphia. I was very proud that our Board passed a resolution that the office remain here and wanted to share with you those words and one of the several responses we have received.

BE IT RESOLVED, the Board of Temple Sholom in Broomall, on this Wednesday, March 16, 2016/ The 6th of Adar II, 5776 hereby implores the Government of the State of Israel, led by Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, to reconsider its decision to close the Consulate General of Israel situated in Philadelphia, PA, and to keep the offices of the Consulate General open for the immediate and foreseeable future.

The Office of the Israel Consulate General in Philadelphia serves not only the large Jewish community in the Philadelphia metropolitan area (one of the top five Jewish communities in the U.S.), including South Jersey and Delaware, it also provides critical and much needed services to the residents of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, working to improve the image of and good will and public relations of Israel in a large area of the United States, and serving the needs of thousands of American Jews and Israelis in the region and those states and communities it serves.

We believe our community and membership will be severely adversely affected by this decision and our efforts to promote Israel will be severely compromised by this decision. While we are sensitive to financial and/or budgetary concerns, closing the offices of the Consulate General will cause irreparable harm to the Jewish community we serve and will hinder our efforts to bridge the gap between the Jewish community in the diaspora and the State of Israel.

NOTES FROM CANTOR JAMIE MARX

Long before I considered cantorial school, I wanted to be a composer. My first songs as a college student were the stereotypical awful dirges detailing broken hearts and missed connections. I continued writing acoustic guitar pop songs, using every new chord position or interesting progression as I learned it. Little by little, the quality of the songwriting improved, though I never did much with the music and gave up on writing for a few years. When I got to cantorial school, I had the opportunity to study composition with two fabulous teachers and started writing again, pushing myself to write in new styles and to add my voice to the vast repertoire of Jewish liturgical settings.

I never found composing or songwriting to be easy - I still don't -- but the exultation of a completed piece is powerful motivation. Since moving to Philadelphia 18 months ago, I have written more music than in all the previous years combined. Some of the pieces I've debuted at Temple Sholom, others aren't meant for a typical Friday night service. All of them are Jewish, many of them are liturgical as well. Though I generally write whatever strikes my mood, I have two different "projects" in mind -- an album of Jewish pop music and an album of Jewish hard rock.

I've had two wonderful successes recently. I released my first single back in January, Bless This Year, which is available on iTunes, Amazon, and Spotify. And a piece I wrote, Yih'yu L'ratzon, has been selected from over 400 pieces for publication in Shabbat Anthology vol. 8, to be published this summer by Transcontinental Music Publications (TMP). TMP is the biggest publisher of Jewish music in the world, and was recently acquired by the American Conference of Cantors, the Reform cantors' professional organization. It will be my first piece published by a music publishing company.

There are many aspects to my cantorate: teacher and tutor, musician and worship leader, counselor and officiant. But along with all of these is composer and songwriter. Expressing my Judaism and my soul through the creation of new Jewish music is as important to me as any other piece of what makes me a cantor. I hope you will join me on my journey.

A MESSAGE FROM INCOMING TEMPLE PRESIDENT, MARY ANN GOULD

It is hard to believe that on July 1st I will become your [Temple] president. I have been blessed to be surrounded by mentors, coaches, advisors, good counsel, clergy, staff and congregants with a passion to preserve and grow Temple Sholom. I assume my new role knowing that I don't know everything, however I am surrounded by individuals who work continuously to get keep Temple Sholom warm, vibrant and welcoming.

This time of year, we are working on identifying and capturing the right people for our Board and committees. Our budget for 2016-2017 is in the final weeks of development. We are working through our end of year programs, events and activities. At the same time, we are building our calendar for next year. The incoming president assembles goals for her/his presidency. I want to share my goals for the next two years with you.

*~ Mary Ann Gould,
Incoming President of the Board*

Goals:

- ◆ Merge the Membership Committee with the Relational Judaism Committee
- ◆ Provide Lay Leadership Orientation
- ◆ Develop a Temple Sholom Policy & Procedure Manual
- ◆ Increase our Social Action/Justice Outreach
- ◆ Develop and Implement a Facility Maintenance Plan
- ◆ Celebrate our 60th Anniversary
- ◆ Negotiate clergy contracts
- ◆ Develop a 2020 vision for Temple Sholom

There is no question that these goals are big and taken as a group, pretty audacious. Based on where we are now as a congregation, each of these goals is achievable. As a synagogue, we are in a good place. We are in a good place because of those who have come before us and you who are with us. Our foundation is strong 60 years after we began. Let's celebrate!

OR L'ATID IS LIGHTING OUR WAY!

In just over a month's time, our Temple Sholom lamplighters have stepped forward and contributed to a very bright future indeed! As of the end of April, more than 120 individuals and families have donated to this year's annual appeal, now embraced as Or L'Atid.

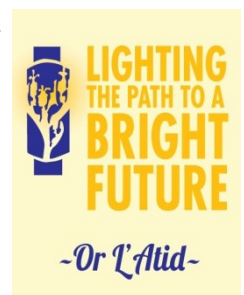

We invite those who have already given to stop by the Temple Sholom office for a gift – beautiful Shabbat candles from the Israeli city of Tzvat. You have lit our path – please let us brighten yours.

For those who have not yet had the chance to give, we need you! There is still time to make your tax deductible donation to help Temple Sholom continue with our programming throughout the year. Or L'Atid will run through the month of May with all donors and their honorees listed in a special section of next month's Temple Tidings.

We are hoping for maximum participation and no gift is too small. You may write a check to Temple Sholom in Broomall, or donate online by clicking the Or L'Atid logo on our website. Be sure to include a notation with who you would like to honor with your contribution by May 31, 2016.

If you have any questions, please contact the office. And thank you everyone for helping our Temple shine!

DIRECTOR'S CORNER

Friends,

As the weather turns warmer, we really feel the year flying by. We are already starting to think about the new year at Temple Sholom! This means membership renewal and reaching out to prospective members.

We want you to know we do not take your membership for granted. We are grateful that you are here and that you help to make Temple Sholom the warm, vibrant and inclusive community that it is. We need you here. You make us who we are.

We also need to ask you to reach out to those around you who may be prospective members. Your good word is the best way for us to maintain and increase our membership.

Let me know if you have prospective members and we will be certain to reach out to them and provide them with information and an introduction to Temple Sholom in a timely and complete fashion.

Temple Sholom strives to make membership available to everyone who wants to be here with us. We have programs, services, activities and groups that appeal to a variety of different interests. We also have financial aid available for those who qualify. We have our Temple Financial aid and we also have grants available to eligible new members from our Satell Fund. We are fortunate to have both opportunities here. If you need financial aid or know of prospective members who would benefit from some financial support, please let us know, and please spread the word.

As the seasons change, and our year comes to an end, we start to think about new beginnings. Thank you for being an integral part of our Temple community, and thank you for taking the time to spread the word about all that we have to offer.

BRINGING OUR COMMUNITY TOGETHER

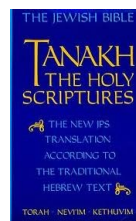

I cannot believe it's already May. Where does the time go? Spring is in full swing! The weather is improving, the flowers are blooming, and it's actually staying light out past 4:30 p.m! The "spring fever" is definitely hitting me and I am looking forward to getting outside for some fun! Wednesday May 11 is Temple Sholom's Yom Ha'atzmaut celebration! To celebrate Israel's birthday, we will have not one, but two camels in our parking lot for rides and pictures. Falafel will be made on-site with all of the fixin's. Come for Israeli dancing, visit the shuk (market), and enjoy games, crafts and activities for all ages! There will also be a showing of the movie "Above and Beyond." It is going to be a lot of fun!

Falafel must be pre-ordered. See page 22 for all of the details on this exciting night!

Save the date for Shabbat in the Park on June 10! An annual tradition enjoyed by all. Page 26 has the details and RSVP information. If you have questions about these events or any other happenings at Temple Sholom, don't hesitate to ask!

INCLUSION AND SPECIAL NEEDS COMMITTEE

New Books for the Schools and Library

Thanks to the generous donations of congregants to the Inclusion and Special Needs Donation fund, the Inclusion Committee has donated money to the Preschool, Rimon, and the Temple Sholom Library to purchase books for children and parents. Books that reflect the diversity of people of all abilities will be provided, as well as books that teach our children about people with special needs. The goal is to sensitize our children to respect and be supportive of children with differences, and to show that children and adults with disabilities are part of our everyday life. New books will also be purchased by the Library that provide resource information to parents of children with special needs.

SCHEIDT SEMINAR

It was snowing in Pennsylvania last weekend while I warmed at a conference center in Atlanta, GA with over 100 URJ congregational president-elects from the U.S. and Canada. We met for four days from 7 am until 10:30 pm to pray, sing, network and learn about our new positions. The experience was amazing. URJ President, Rabbi Rick Jacobs lead us through our worship and work from beginning to end. How important we felt to have his attention for four days!

The goal for this Leadership Institute: Scheidt Seminar is to Inspire Sacred Action. I am inspired to build and maintain sacred partnerships, be bold and share new ideas with my congregational partners, to take action on new ideas, to be an intentional and reflective leader, to develop my own personal Torah of Jewish leadership and to keep learning as I lead.

At 65, this was the best seminar I have ever attended. I have renewed energy to prepare for the work ahead. With the help of God and my congregational partners, anything is possible.

LIBRARY COLLECTION GROWS

Thanks to the Inclusion Committee, the library is able to purchase a collection of new informational materials related to individuals experiencing disabilities. Education Director, Lori Green and I are reviewing both child and adult material for selections. We will let you know when the books are ready for circulation.

A big thank you goes to Joel Perlish who continues to save our history from destruction. Over the past two years, Joel has converted our memories of Temple Sholom from tape to disk. We appreciate Joel's work on our behalf.

Thank you for your donations of books and money. Thank you for contributing to our future.

SING A SONG OF SISTERHOOD

All Through the Spring!

It's not just the birds happily chirping all around us. Sisterhood sisters are also in a joyful mood, celebrating that springtime has truly arrived and along with the season have been lots of Sisterhood activities to celebrate.

Last month began with our Extended Planning Meeting. We enjoyed a light salad dinner while we conducted our business of the evening. We were pleased with the number of Sisterhood members who attended to help us plan programs for next year and to help us figure out what the future holds for Temple Shalom's Sisterhood. We'll give full details next month.

Our "Backstage at the Walnut Street Theatre" tour in April was a rousing success. We were 20 members who had a unique opportunity, in addition to our tour, to see the theatre in action. It was our luck that on the day of our tour the Walnut was having auditions in the theatre for young professionals hoping to work in the Philadelphia theatre community. Our lunch together at nearby Moriarty's added to the specialness of the day.

Our commitment to our social action cause for the spring culminated in our involvement with the DMAX Foundation's event, Facing Down the Stigma of Mental Illness in the Workplace and In Life, which took place at Bryn Mawr College. Many thanks for the Sisterhood members who helped out at the event.

Make sure you've made reservations for Sisterhood's Closing Event on May 26th. Rumor has it that your favorite comedienesses, Tina Fey and Amy Poehler, just might be making a comeback appearance. We promise a delicious Breakfast for Dinner and several delightful surprises. Don't miss out!

Last month's get-together for the Sisterhood Book Club was a fascinating discussion of The Children Act by Ian McEwan. We are so fortunate to have a book group that is facilitated with great care and intelligence by Laurie Brown goehl. Lisa Warner keeps us organized; many thanks to Lisa, too! On June 9th, we will discuss our final Sisterhood Book Club selection of the year: The Angel of Losses by Stephanie Feldman.

Please support our Sisterhood and our Temple by purchasing Happiness and Memorial Cards. Jewish National Fund trees, circles of trees and groves in Israel; all can be ordered through the help of Shirley Birenbaum at surabassa@aol.com or call her at 610-328-2171. Your purchases will be acknowledged in future issues of The Temple Tidings.

The Gift Garden doesn't close completely during the summer. You can still purchase Jewish gifts for yourself and others through special appointment or by contacting the Temple Office. Before summer, why not do some browsing with Gift Garden Manager Linda Phillips and her assistants. The bargains are not only stupendous, but all Sisterhood members receive a 20% discount over and above items that are on sale.

Celebrating a special event? Why not make it really special by purchasing invitations and other paper goods necessities? All our invitations and related products are offered to you at considerable discounts. Contact our Invitation Maven, Nancy Hays at haz@comcast.net.

By being a member of Sisterhood, it means you belong. You'll find old friends and develop new friends. There's nothing like working together toward a common cause – the Temple, Israel, Women of Reform Judaism, in fact, the world of Jewish women. You'll learn, you'll share, you'll enjoy!

We're looking forward to your involvement and commitment for Sisterhood next year. For now, contact us sisterhood@templesholom.org. We always enjoy hearing from you.

Hilltoppers' programs continue through June so there's plenty of time to still enjoy our fabulous events and friendly members!

Rosenberg on May 26th at 1:30 p.m. in the Temple library. Our final Book Discussion Group meeting will take place on June 23rd when we will discuss The Book of Unknown Americans by Christina Henriquez.

Hilltoppers is in the process of gathering book recommendations for our esteemed Hilltoppers' Book Discussion Group. Have you read a book that you'd really like to share with others? Has somebody whose opinion you value recommended a book to you? Is there a book you've wanted to read but haven't gotten around to it? Please send your recommendations to DonnaHendel@gmail.com prior to May 24. We will be meeting to finalize next year's book list on Tuesday, May 24 at 10 a.m.

It's also almost time to schedule Hilltoppers' programs for next year. Have you heard about a speaker who was successful at another venue? Did a musical group at a nearby library "wow" you? Please ask your friends and family if they have recommendations for our programs for next year. We will meet to figure out the 2016-2017 Hilltoppers programs on Tuesday, June 7. by June 2.

A brief description of the book: The Tiger's Wife meets A History of Love in this inventive, lushly imagined debut novel that explores the intersections of family secrets, Jewish myths, the legacy of war and history, and the bonds between sisters.

When Eli Burke dies, he leaves behind a mysterious notebook full of stories about a magical figure named The White Rebbe, a miracle worker in league with the enigmatic Angel of Losses, protector of things gone astray, and guardian of the lost letter of the alphabet, which completes the secret name of God.

When his granddaughter, Marjorie, discovers Eli's notebook, everything she thought she knew about her grandfather—and her family—comes undone. To find the truth about Eli's origins and unlock the secrets he kept, she embarks on an odyssey that takes her deep into the past, from 18th century Europe to Nazi-occupied Lithuania, and back to the present, to New York City and her estranged sister Holly, whom she must save from the consequences of Eli's past.

Interweaving history, theology, and both real and imagined Jewish folktales, The Angel of Losses is a family story of what lasts, and of what we can—and cannot—escape.

The next opportunity to help us do a mitzvah for Mitzvah Meal is on Tuesday, June 14. We need volunteers before that night, as well as on that date, to help prepare and serve a hot meal to hungry people at the Life Center of Eastern Delaware County. Temple Sholom has been participating in this program for many years; meals are served 365 days a year by various congregations in the Delaware Valley, and our turn is the second Tuesday of every even-numbered month.

For June, Adam and Robin Weinstein are coordinating. You may call them at 610-446-1113. Better still; go to the Signup Genius website where you can sign up for this meal and any or all future meals in August, October and December of this year. You can select which job you'd like: Purchasing supplies - preparing cold or hot food - serving the meal - and you will be contacted by email with specific instructions and reminders.

Here is the link to sign up:

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT THE PRESCHOOL

After Spring Break, we returned to Preschool with a special delivery from Farmer Dan ... we got chicken eggs! These eggs were housed in the incubator for a whole week before hatching into baby chicks! It was amazing to watch the process of the egg to chick. We had much fun watching our little fur babies until they were returned to the farm!

Last month we learned about the exodus and "left Egypt" for our Preschool Passover celebration. The children learned songs about frogs, colored their own Haggadot, and participated in classroom Seders. Hoping everyone had an enjoyable holiday with family.

This month we look forward to many exciting activities in the classroom and around the Temple! Our fabulous Preschool Teachers and Volunteers were honored at Tot Shabbat Services on April 8 and we celebrate them in school this first week of May. We will also celebrate our amazing Moms with a Muffins with Mom breakfast to be enjoyed by all!

We will again explore the life cycle and be scientists! This time it's with a butterfly garden. First we get the live caterpillars; next they form a chrysalis before observing them turning into beautiful butterflies!

Looking forward to celebrate Israel's Independence Day on May 11 at Temple Sholom's Yom Haatzma'ut celebration ... we'll even get to ride a camel!

Our Camp Menschy program is growing as we are making finishing plans for the summer fun days ahead! Please call or email with any questions. Registration for next school year has also started. Classes tend to fill up quickly so we encourage you to get those in soon.

As our school year is coming to a quick end, we look forward to our annual Family Fun Fair on June 5-- please join us for tons of fun! Then, it's off to our end of year parties and taking stock of all the learning, growing and fun we have had all year long.

With the end of 5776 school year fast approaching we are not saying Shalom - goodbye. We are saying L'hitraot "until we meet again"! When one says Shalom as "goodbye" it implies that one will not be seeing the other person ever again. We know that will not happen and that we will meet again ... whether it is next year for Rimon, a visit from our college students during their breaks, or anytime at Temple Sholom. We hope that we never say Shalom to any of our students and families!

May is a short month for Rimon but filled with amazing learning and celebration. Don't miss our Temple's Yom Ha'atzmaut festivities on Wednesday, May 11. We will celebrate Israel's statehood with games, dancing, camel rides, and a special presentation of all our students' culminating projects on Israel.

And...more celebrations!

Our Rimon End-of-Year picnic will take place on Sunday, May 15 with a family picnic at the Willows in Villanova. Bring your lawn chairs, blankets, and favorite outdoor toys - we will provide the lunch! 10:00a.m. - Noon

Rimon Noar will celebrate the end of the year at our annual picnic on the grounds of Temple Sholom on Monday, May 16.

Last days of Rimon Hebrew will take place on Monday, May 16 and Tuesday, May 17.

Our final Gesherim event will be a family Havdalah celebration on Saturday, May 14 beginning at 5:00 p.m.

Don't forget to join us on Friday, May 13 at Family Services when we will say Mazel Tov and L'hitraot to all of our graduating seniors!

Save Saturday, June 11 to celebrate the holiday of Shavuot. During this very special evening our 10th grade Confirmation service and 6th grade Move Up ceremony will take place. These moving life-cycle events celebrate the past, present, and future of our most precious gift...our children!

2016-2017/5777 Rimon registration is underway! Register before Monday, May 9 to avoid late fees. And, don't forget to tell your friends to check us out and become a member of the Temple Sholom and Rimon family!

JEWISH LEARNING VENTURE HIGHLIGHTS TEMPLE SHOLOM'S PARTICIPATION IN THEIR LeV PROGRAM

Venture of the Month: Temple Sholom
Posted: March 31st, 2016

Jewish Learning Venture's mission is to inspire and empower people to make Jewish life, learning and community relevant and meaningful. Every month, we're featuring a story from one of the synagogues whom we work with that are engaged in making systemic change.

In April, we are delighted to share about Temple Sholom in Broomall's participation in our LeV program and what has changed at their school as a result. LeV is a two-year project that transforms Jewish education for elementary school age children and their families. Education Director Lori Green answered our questions about the impact of LeV on the Temple Sholom community.

JLV: Please describe the change that's happened at Temple Sholom as a result of participating in LeV.

LG: Seeking to provide our families a change from a traditional to a more contemporary educational experience was the driving force behind Rimon. The journey to our re-imagined and re-envisioned program took us from challenging our preconceived ideas of what Jewish education has been, to what it could be at Temple Sholom. Focusing on community, voice and choice, and a pluralistic education that was rooted in the past, living in the present and looking towards the future, we developed Rimon...a Jewish educational program for Kindergarten through 6th grade.

Our Sunday program, originally divided into two, independent sessions, now meets for one long session. This enables all of our students to be in our building at the same time and helps to build community. Additionally, our students are in cross age groupings, each with a team of three teachers. Our days are full of song, Project Based learning, tefillah and chugim! In order to ensure that each and every child's voice is heard, our days begin with Kehillah boker where students gather in small groups to share events of the past week and to talk about the day's activities.

Realizing the 6th grade is a bridge between primary Jewish education, B'nei Mitzvah, and beyond, we created a unique program that includes family learning and "kids only" learning. Gesherim (bridges) provides our tweens and their families an opportunity to focus on such topics as: The Jewish Journey, The American Jewish Journey, The Adolescent Journey, The Journey to Jewish Adulthood, and more. Tikkun Olam, field trips, alternative Shabbat experiences, and a year-long Torah project are key components of Gesherim.

Temple Sholom's mid-week Hebrew program also underwent a transformation. Understanding how difficult it is for students to sit in a Hebrew classroom after a long day at school, we restructured our afternoon Hebrew program. Students choose from an array of 45 minute class meetings. Though only 45 minutes in length, our Hebrew class size is limited to 5 or 6 students. Short but small classes with focused content enable our students to receive the one-on-one attention that was not possible in our formerly, large classes. Additionally, for our families who live further from Temple Sholom, we offer one-on-one Hebrew classes via Skype or Face Time.

Now in our third year of Rimon we are pleased with the results. Our children love our student-centered Sundays, including the opportunity to having ownership of their learning, and building friendships across the grades. Our mid-week Hebrew students are achieving well beyond expectations. They are enjoying spending time not only learning how to read and chant Hebrew prayers and blessings, but are also engaged in rich activities that empower them to make each prayer their own.

Rimon is a living and breathing educational program. Through ongoing reflection, reassessment, and revision it is our hope that it will continue to engage, excite, and have meaning for our children and their families.

JLV: How did Jewish Learning Venture help you achieve what you described above?

LG: Jewish Learning Venture's LeV program enabled us to enter a process to help us focus on what was important to our Temple Sholom community and envision what could be. The support of our consultant and Jewish Learning Venture was critical to the creation of Rimon.

JLV: What words of wisdom would you share with other organizations who are interested in making a similar change?

LG: In order for real change to take place, it is critical that all stakeholders are involved. The professional leadership, lay leadership, parents, and faculty must all be around the table for discussion and ongoing communication. All must be involved in the process and all must be champions for the product. Additionally, it is critical that the rabbi be a key partner in the process.

MAY B'NEI MITZVAH

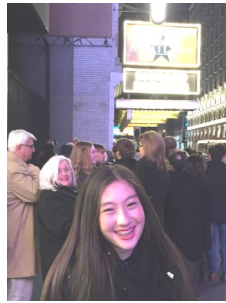

Tamar Galvin will become a Bat Mitzvah on May 7. She is the daughter of Eve and Michael Galvin and is in the 7th grade at Bala Cynwyd Middle School. Celebrating with her will be her older sister Baila and her grandparents Tom and Shelly Galvin of Cleveland, Ohio. Other friends and relatives will be coming from California, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin.

Outside of school, Tamar swims for Friends' Central Aquatics. She likes to read, sew, and design clothes, and plays clarinet in her school band and orchestra.

For her mitzvah project, Tamar was a counselor at SibShop, a support group for kids whose siblings have special needs. She helped lead discussions and planned and supervised games and activities.

Abigail Byun Kanes, daughter of Ann Byun and Stephen Kanes will be celebrating her Bat Mitzvah on May 14th. Joining her on this special occasion will be her grandparents, Connie and Sam Byun coming from California; grandparents Ann and Barry Kanes from New Jersey; and also aunts, uncles and cousins coming from California, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Michigan to celebrate with her.

A 7th grader at The Shipley School Abigail loves theater and acting. She performs in musicals and plays at the Hedgerow Theatre in Rose Valley, and also plays the upright bass with the Delaware Valley Young Musicians' Orchestra.

When asked to describe her Mitzvah Project Abigail writes:

For my Mitzvah Project I taught an acting class to children at the Chester Unity Center, an after school program for underprivileged children, with my two good acting friends. We worked with the kids on the basics of acting and put on a play of The Cat in the Hat. We had a lot of fun playing acting games with the kids along with them learning to love acting as much as I do. We worked on reading the script and getting to know the characters they were going to be playing. This was a learning experience for me as well as for the kids. I had never really taught a class before and this was a really good first experience.

David Graff, son of Deborah Stone and Robert Graff, will be celebrating his Bar Mitzvah on May 21. He looks forward to sharing his special day with his brother Noah and grandmothers from Haverford, as well as close aunts, uncles, cousins and friends from Los Angeles, Boston, Louisville, Dallas, New York, Chicago, Washington, D.C. and Montreal.

David is a 7th grade Honor and Seminar student at Haverford Middle School, where he participates in a wide variety of activities, including Jazz band and Improv Theatre. He is First Trombone in the audition jazz band, participated in Philadelphia's "Future City" Competition, and is a 3-time award-winner of the Competition Math League and Word Masters Challenge. David enjoys playing baseball and is an avid sports fan. He looks forward to his annual Fantasy Football league, summers at Camp Ockanickon, and extended family visits to Cape Cod. Whenever possible, he enjoys playing backyard baseball, football and shooting hoops with friends and neighbors.

For his Mitzvah Project, David volunteered at Cradles to Crayons in Conshohocken, an organization that serves impoverished children aged 0-12 in Philadelphia. They collect, sort, clean and package goods – from clothes, to shoes, books, toys and more – that are in new or near-new condition to distribute to children in need. Philadelphia has the highest rate of poverty of the 10 largest U.S. cities – households living on less than $12,000/year. David prepared and packaged "kid packs" of toys for dozens of children, and cleaned donated shoes to ensure they were in good shape for children who need them.

Happy spring everyone!
ToaSTY has just a few more events left for this year. We had an awesome time jamming out to Josh Nelson last month! He was so great and it was really cool to see the whole congregation all enjoying themselves to his music! Also in April, we had NFTY-PAR's Spring Kallah at Camp Harlam. This is a bittersweet event for our seniors Noah Mendell and Ali Prager as they say goodbye to their friends and fellow PARites.

May will bring us to our second shul-in at Temple Sholom on the weekend of the 14-15th. Be on the lookout for more information about that via social media. In June, will be our last event of the year; beach day, June 5th! We look forward to welcoming our incoming freshman to this event and hope to see many of you there!

We will be gathering "with the elements in the park." Journey with us as we explore the Five Elements in Nature and the Jewish concepts of being close to nature. Each element represents a different aspect of our daily lives. How can we use that element as a path of spiritual growth?

Meet at the park entrance: 10:00 a.m. (the bridge near Bishop Hollow Rd. and Chapel Hill Rd. Please see directions that follow.)

Our program will take place near the Fisherman's Pier, which is about a 20 minute walk from the entrance. There is handicap parking near our program location. People who cannot walk the 20 minutes from the entrance of the park to the meeting location (less than a mile) and/or have a handicap tag, may be able to drive to the handicap parking area and join us for the meeting. Please indicate that in your RSVP so we can make arrangements for you.

After we meet at the entrance at 10:00 a.m. we will walk together to our program location. There is a picnic table that can seat 8 people. Beyond that we need chairs. If you can, please bring a light folding chair. Chairs will be transported by one car to the handicap parking area near the meeting place. You will not need to carry your chairs.

Please plan to arrive a few minutes earlier to find a parking place, transfer the chairs and be ready to start walking to our program promptly at 10:00 a.m.

If you need a ride to the park, indicate that in your RSVP. We will try to match you up with someone else going from your area.

Wear comfortable clothes and walking shoes. You will need a pen; so please remember to bring a one.

RSVP to Gloria Kresch (with phone number and email) by Friday, May 6, so we know how many are planning to come, and are able to contact you in case of any changes in plans. Those who RSVP will be notified by e-mail of any changes in case of rain or other problem.
