FROM THE DESK OF RABBI RIGLER

Our tradition has much to teach about how we interact with our families and the world around us. We know well our responsibility to perform acts of love and kindness and that it is our responsibility to repair the world. Through my own study over the past few years, I realize how little we speak about the impact Judaism can have in our own personal growth and development. Judaism offers an incredible tool box of ways to work on our inner being. Judaism can help us become who we want to be.

This year, at Temple Sholom in Broomall, we will be working on Tikkun Hanefesh – repairing and renewing our souls through the study of a genre of Jewish literature called Middot. These Middot, or soul traits, are found in Mussar, a Jewish wisdom tradition, the purpose of which is to help us bring ourselves into better balance.

“Mussar refers to a spiritual perspective and also a discipline of transformative practices.” ... “It shines a light on the causes of suffering and shows us how to realize our highest spiritual potential.” (Alan Morinis)

The goal of Mussar or Middot practice is to help us develop and reach our greatest potential as people. We often reach to other methods for this work, but Judaism has provided us with an enriching path for bettering ourselves.

We look forward to working hand in hand with you in realizing a new and exciting potential for Jewish learning and living in our community and lives. This study will be conducted using Facebook and at home assignments. We also will share with you the history and development of Mussar.

“The one stone on which the entire building rests is the concept that God wants each person to complete himself, body and soul.” – Rabbi Moshe Chaim Luzzatto, author of the seminal work The Path of the Just (1740)

Each month, we will pick a value/a middah. We will ask you to read a section from Everyday Holiness that will give you much more to think about. During the month, we will connect on a special Facebook group. Cantor Marx and I will guide the study with thoughts, questions, and some assignments along the way. What is the goal? Spiritual connection and a chance to take a breath using our own tradition.

How can you best take advantage of the year ahead?

First, make sure to order the book that will be our guide, Everyday Holiness by Alan Morinis. It's available on Amazon. (Don't forget to order through the synagogue link.)

Join and follow our Facebook page. We ask that you post and share to the group also.

Connect with us as we share this study and make sure to tell us what moved you, what confused you and what has impacted you.

Our study will begin in October. Here is the list of Middot we have chosen to look at in coming months:

October: Humility / Anavah
November: Generosity / Nedivut
December: Loving kindness / Chesed
January: Gratitude / Hakarat ha'tov
February: Responsibility / Achrayut
March: Trust / Bitachon
April: Patience / Savlanut
May: Enthusiasm / Zerizut

Wishing you all a Shana Tova – a good year from my family to yours.

~ Rabbi Peter Rigler

YIZKOR

May God remember for ever my dear ones...and may my life always bring honor to their memory.
—Yizkor service, Gates of Repentance

From its beginning, Jewish literature has focused intently on the subject of memory. Yizkor, meaning “to remember,” appears in the Bible 228 times, referring to such diverse elements as Shabbat, Miriam’s leprosy, and Amalek’s attack on the Israelites.

For those of us who have experienced the loss of a loved one we understand how important and powerful rituals are. The Jewish rituals have incredible wisdom and advice for us about how to walk our path of mourning. While it has not been our practice to share Yizkor at Temple Sholom other than Yom Kippur we recognize that our tradition actually calls for four yizkor services during the year as we mark Holy Days.

The four memorial services are held on Yom Kippur, at the end of Sukkot, Passover, and Shavuot. Communal and individual prayers of memory are read. The central prayer begins with Yizkor Elohim, “May God remember” the souls of the deceased. Yizkor services are attended by anyone who has lost a parent, child, sibling, or spouse. This year we would like to start the practice here in support of all of those who have suffered a loss and others who may find comfort or would like to offer support.

Yizkor Dates to remember:

Yom Kippur - Wednesday, September 19, 5:00 p.m.;
Sukkot - Sunday, September 30, 9:30 a.m.;
Passover - Saturday, April 20, 9:30 a.m.;
Shavuot - Sunday, June 9, 10 a.m. followed by a Torah Study brunch

NOTES FROM CANTOR JAMIE MARX

Every summer, my family and I head down the shore for a week. As we cross the bridge separating Ocean City from the rest of New Jersey I can feel the tension leave my shoulders, my heart rate slows, and a stupid grin spreads across my face. Maybe it's the beach kid in me. The tang of salty air just makes me feel like I'm a kid again in San Diego.

Our week in Ocean City is, at least for me, a final respite from High Holy Day preparations. Watching the kids build sand castles or dig sand pits, patiently floating on my boogie board waiting for a wave, soaking in the summer sun, even the perennial struggle to keep sand out of your lunch -- I love it all. But, in truth, the beach is actually the perfect place to prepare your soul for the High Holy Days.

Watch a child's single-minded persistence building a sand castle. As adults, we know that all their efforts are pointless. The water will eventually wash the castle away and leave no sign that it ever existed. Still, every kid continues to build sand castles and even take pleasure and pride in the work they do. They're not fazed by the impermanence. They know that's how the world works and yet they still get so excited about what they're gonna build.

Each time I get on my boogie board, I have to sit and wait for a wave. Sometimes a good wave never comes.

Sometimes there a bunch, one after another. More often than not the waves are there, but I'm in the wrong place, or I get set a little too late, or I jump too early. And yet I sit in the water and wait. All year round, I don't think I'm ever as patient as I am on a boogie board. And when the right wave comes at the right time, it's the best feeling in the world. It almost feels like I can control the ocean! But of course the ocean will always be ready to remind me that it is vastly more powerful and that my sense of control, even in such a small way, is just an illusion.

Our High Holy Day prayerbook constantly reminds us of the basic fact of our own mortality and asks us to consider: with what limited time we have left, what choices will we make? The central prayer of our High Holy Day liturgy, Un'tane Tokef, tells us that we have no control over our own fate. Tragedy might befall us at any moment and in the face of that terror, we are asked to do our best with our time, to try and bring healing and peace to the world as best we can. Life is hard, and it's hard for everyone. Life is tragic, and it is tragic for everyone. But we have a choice: we can be self-centered and try to make life better for ourselves only, or we can do good for others, to join together in community and in love to try and make the world better for everyone.

So our prayer this year is to bring the lessons of the beach home with us. Help us learn to appreciate the good things as they come and still find the fortitude to stick with it when it seems like we'll never have our break. Help us bring single-minded persistence to our work every day, knowing that what we build may not last, but finding joy and satisfaction in the work of our hands regardless. And most of all, help us find strength in community to face life's challenges, knowing we can accomplish more together than we can on our own.

RELIGIOUS PRACTICES COMMITTEE UPDATE FOR THE NEW YEAR

The Religious Practices Committee is up and running, ready for the busy upcoming year.

We will discuss and determine policy on a number of topics, some of which include: High Holy Day Honors; memorial plaques; need for a Sofer (a Torah scribe) by 2020; four yizkor services, and pre-Onegs prior to (rather than after) Friday night Shabbat services.

Of course, we will coordinate all decisions with Rabbi Rigler and Cantor Marx.

Would you like to join our important committee? Rather than meeting on a regular basis, we'll be getting together as needs arise. Please contact DonnaHendel@gmail.com to add your name to the list.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT ABOUT SHABBAT SERVICES

Beginning September 7, 2018, all Shabbat Services will begin at 7:00 p.m. All Adult, Family, and Special Shabbat Services will begin at 7:00 p.m. (unless otherwise noted). Please contact the Temple office with questions.

TODAH RABAH TO OUR SUMMER PARA-RABBIS AND PARA-CANTORS

Each summer the Cantor and I have the opportunity to spend a little more time with our families and refresh for the new year. Our lives as clergy are rich and rewarding but, the daily flow of life cycles and responsibilities makes it hard to have down time. We are so blessed at Temple Sholom to have a group of Para Clergy who make it possible for us to take time off knowing the community is in great hands for services on Shabbat. We wanted to thank those individuals who served as Para clergy this summer including:

Andy & Linda Borson
Scott Massey
Noah Mendell
Cassie Rosin
Neil Schwartz

We also thank all of you who have served as Para Clergy at other occasions. We would love to include more volunteers so if you would like to be a para service leader please be in touch. We are happy to train anyone who is interested.

SANCTUARY MINHAG (CUSTOMS) AT TEMPLE SHOLOM

At Temple Sholom, we observe the following customs (minhag) regarding entering the sanctuary during services:

People are not permitted to enter the sanctuary when:

- the congregation is standing
- the ark is open
- the Rabbi is speaking
- the choir is standing up and singing
- or at times that would be disrespectful – at the discretion of the sanctuary usher.

It is recommended that children under 12 years of age attend Family Services which are held for those families with children younger than 12 years old and who wish to come as a family. We ask that parents be responsible for the behavior of their children.

GREETINGS FROM THE BOARD

Welcome back to a new year at Temple Sholom. As I write this, I can still feel the heat of summer, but fall is fast approaching and with it the High Holy Days and a new season at Temple Sholom. I remember back to September fifteen years ago when I was a new member and wondering how to get involved. I joined Sisterhood and slowly started to volunteer in other areas as well. Over the years I have found myself more and more involved in Temple activities, to the point that the Temple feels like home.

It takes all of us to make our Temple a home. Volunteering is a great opportunity to become involved in our community and a fantastic way to meet new people. We are all here to help you find your volunteering niche.

Help with something familiar! (Or you can do something out of your comfort zone.) Give as much or as little time as you want. Opportunities abound and you can help out:

- Once a week
- Once a month
- Once a year
- Or anything in between!

Work on a special project or join a committee. A few of our committees include: Buildings and Grounds, Security, Preschool, Religious School, Ushering, Pot Luck Dinner, Religious Practices, Mitzvah Meals, Mitzvah Corps, Library, Gardening and more. Help is also needed on Friday mornings to prepare for the oneg and in many capacities during the High Holy Days. Please contact our Executive Director, Abbey Krain, to let her know that you wish to become involved and she will help you to find your niche!

Best wishes for a Sweet and Happy New Year!

FINDING THE BARRIO JUDIO WHILE STUDYING ABROAD

BY ABIGAIL BROWNGOEHL

When you think Spain, you certainly don't think about a country with very many Jews. I wasn't planning on combatting that preconception when I signed on to spend the spring semester of my Junior year at Middlebury College in Spain; I was prepared to leave our cozy Temple Sholom family and my Middlebury Hillel for a non-religious semester in Europe. Our lovely Middlebury Rabbi approached me about KAHAL, an organization that connects Jewish Americans studying abroad with Jewish communities and other Jewish youth. I signed up, and before I even left for Madrid I was receiving emails about Shabbat dinners waiting for me across the ocean.

I was a bit apprehensive about engaging with the Jewish community in Spain since security seemed rather tight; I was required to send a copy of my passport to any service I went to, I had to give lots of information about my home synagogue, and had to explain my personal relationship to Judaism before attending a service. My first weekend in Madrid I went to a Shabbat service anticipating the worst and was incredibly surprised to find a carefree and homey community. They welcomed me and my far less than perfect Spanish, invited me to celebrate with them, asked me about myself, and most importantly, fed me challah.

Throughout my semester, I learned a lot about the history of Spain. I lived with a host family in a suburb of Madrid called Hortaleza, and I learned a lot about how the religious history of Spain has affected modern culture. Perhaps surprisingly, Spain is incredibly secular today - as an example, my host family were non-practicing Catholics. Sharing these cultures was such a fun experience; my host mother was so empathetic of my longing for bagels (warning: there are no good bagels in Europe) that she found the one market in Madrid that sold bagels and bought me six. They taught me about Franco and the abolishing of Catholicism as the official religion after his death in 1978, and I taught them about bubblies and Nice Jewish Boys (NJBs).

Passover happened to fall on my spring break. I was a little worried what I would do while traveling through Europe, but KAHAL took care of it and I ended up having an amazing weekend. For Passover, my friend and I went to a Seder in an old, out-of-use synagogue in Prague, Czech Republic and the next day we went to an Easter Mass at a stunningly blue church in Bratislava, Slovakia. The Seder was entirely in Czech, and the Mass was entirely in Slovak; needless to say, we didn't understand a word of either service. It was an incredible experience to spend these special holidays immersed in the culture of the countries that welcomed us, and I am so grateful for it.

All in all, my experience connecting to Judaism and religion in Europe was fascinating. My conclusion is this: Jewish communities are present all over Europe; though it takes a bit of research to find them, they're incredibly welcoming and vibrant.

Abigail Browngoehl has been a member of Temple Sholom her entire life. She is now a student at Middlebury College where she is on the board of Hillel. She has recently accepted a position as the Middlebury College intern for KAHAL, an organization which gives Jewish students the resources, tools and connections they need to make meaningful Jewish experiences while they are studying abroad.

Is your child studying abroad? Make their Rosh HaShanah sweet this year by signing them up for a host family or local synagogue this holiday. Let KAHAL and Temple Sholom find you a place for the High Holy Days anywhere in the world!

NEWS FROM THE BROTHERHOOD PRESIDENT

To The Men Of Temple Sholom:

This year I am super excited to be assuming the role of Brotherhood President and I would like to personally invite you to join us in this important year! Great leaders have come before me, delivering social, educational and community services to the entire Temple Sholom community. I am honored to take the helm and look forward to a fantastic year.

As we re-envision what Brotherhood can be for Temple Sholom, it is my hope to continue many of our great traditions while also creating some new ones along the way!

In the past, Brotherhood has helped with construction of our sukkah, sponsored speaker events and provided support (and food) for many of our Temple friends and families. That will continue! But I would also like to develop new programs that speak to our ever growing and diverse community. Perhaps a brisket cook-off? Or a beer-swap during an Eagles game? Special events for Temple Dads and Granddads? These are just some of the ideas that have been put forth.

But to be successful – we need your help and input. I invite any interested members to join me for a planning meeting where we can begin to brainstorm these events for the New Year. Please contact me (brotherhood@temple-sholom.org) if you would like to be a part of the planning. I will schedule a time convenient to all in August.

PLEASE JOIN! It's only $36. If you haven't already done so, send in your check today!

I look forward to honoring and growing our traditions in the Temple family! If you have any questions or suggestions, please feel free to contact me!

~ B'shalom, Dave Mendell
Brotherhood President

SHABBAT IN THE PARK

With the passing of Mitch Wolfson, there were some big shoes to fill for the Temple's annual Shabbat in the park. It actually took many pairs of shoes, as a team of hard working temple volunteers helped to create a delicious meal for over 100 people. With pre-planning, shopping, prepping, and day of set up, cooking, and clean up we were able to help support this great event. Beautiful weather and a terrific service from Rabbi and Cantor made for a wonderful evening. We are always looking for additional help, and for ideas to improve on this event. Please consider joining our team next year. Special thanks goes out to the team of people who made the event possible:

INCLUSION AND SPECIAL NEEDS COMMITTEE

Remember, that the Inclusion and Special Needs Committee is available to provide support and advocacy for any Temple Sholom congregant who feels they are in need of accommodations to fully participate in any and all programs and services at our congregation. Whether it is working with the clergy to assure that your child will become a bar or bat mitzvah, or working with the school administration to enable your child to have her/his needs met in the classroom, or reaching out to auxiliary groups/committees to be more mindful of providing information about inclusion of people of varying abilities in Temple events and programs, we are here to assist you. Temple Sholom strives to be fully inclusive and anticipate congregant needs, but needs you to let us know how we can be even more inclusive and sensitive to the needs of its congregants. Please contact Inclusion Chairperson, Regina Levin, at 610-715-1745 or email her at r.k.levin@comcast.net or Abbey Krain, Executive Director at director@temple-sholom.org.

SISTERHOOD: FOR ALL TEMPLE SHOLOM WOMEN

Sisterhood is open to all Temple Sholom women, and even women friends of Temple Sholom, who wish to join in the camaraderie, learning and mitzvot opportunities that abound in our organization.

We are so looking forward to seeing all our Sisterhood friends for the Welcome Dinner on Thursday evening, October 4 at the Temple. Our program begins at 5:30 PM with Registration and hors d'oeuvres. If you haven't RSVP'd yet, please do so immediately. This Welcome Dinner is free of charge to all Sisterhood members and women of Temple Sholom who are first-year members. So, please be sure to send in your membership papers and dues, because we look forward to all of us being together again. Yes, you may sign up and pay your dues at the door, but we do need your response by Thursday, September 27.

Our featured guest is Temple Sholom friend, Singer/Songwriter Denise Moser. She will share her life and musical journey with us that evening. See the full page flyer with additional details on page ??? of The Temple Tidings.

We have many programs and events already in the planning process for this upcoming year. A recurrent theme of our Sisterhood is that it is run BY and FOR you. Therefore, we're so pleased that many of you have stepped up and signed on to serve on committees for the upcoming year. However, this is NOT to say that there isn't room on our committees for YOU. A wonderful way to make new friends and cement former friendships is to become involved and serve on a Sisterhood committee. We'd love to include you as part of Sisterhood's planning process.

Sisterhood is so grateful, once again, to Elyse and Daniel Endy, who cheerfully spearhead our annual Shana Tovah Greetings program (in its 16th year). With help from Joan Endy (and maybe a little wine???), this person-to-person method of extending High Holy Day wishes results in a major, annual fundraising success for Sisterhood. Thank you so much for your generosity and your time.

Coming up soon after Sisterhood's Welcome Dinner is our Game Night on Sunday evening, November 4. Do you like word games? Is Mahjong more your thing? We'll have lots of games available. Come join us!

And we're pleased to bring back Sisterhood Shabbat on Friday, November 16. Be sure to celebrate at our annual Chanukah Dinner on December 7. Coming up and confirmed in 2019 is our Education Program and our Closing Dinner. Still in the planning process are a Theater trip, Museum tour, and cooking class. Maybe more ... ?

Sisterhood Book Club will continue for another year with a slightly different format because our readers will be taking turns facilitating. Our first selection is Turtles All The Way Down, by John Green.

Please take advantage of our wonderful Happiness and Memorial greeting card program, or purchase a Jewish National Fund tree. These are ways to reach out to congratulate somebody, or to mark a sad lifestyle event. Contact Shirley Birenbaum at surabassa@aol.com or call her at 610-328-2171. Sisterhood members may purchase these cards or trees at a discounted, competitive rate that includes postage and addressing.

Sisterhood's gift shop, The Gift Garden, is located across from the Temple Office. It is open throughout the school year with regular hours listed on the door, or by special appointment. Your gift needs can always be met! For examples of merchandise, go to the Temple Sholom website, then Community, then Gift Shop. Sisterhood members are entitled to a nice discount on all inventory.

Do you have any questions or concerns? Are you ready to sign up for a committee? Direct your correspondence to sisterhood@temple-sholom.org. Your response will arrive shortly.

HILLTOPPERS ANNOUNCE EXCITING LINEUP FOR THE FALL

Two committees within Hilltoppers met in late Spring to plan the programs and the Book Discussion Group selections for next year. What a lineup – we're really excited!

Ten books were selected for discussion in the 2018-2019 season. We will begin our discussions on September 13 with Pachinko. It's a fantastic read! We'll end the year on June 13 with No One Is Coming To Save Us. The books include both fiction and non-fiction, older titles and new. All can be bought in every format possible, and they are also all available within the library systems. What's more, two copies of every book have been purchased and are ready for checkout on the specially marked Temple library shelf. (Thank you so much, Cindy and Jim Meyer, for your generosity in buying these books!) The Hilltoppers Book Discussion Group meets on the second Thursday of the month at 1:30 p.m. in the Temple library.

We are equally enthusiastic about our programs and events for next year. Everything is confirmed, although the titles of the programs may change. Flyers for upcoming Hilltoppers programs are always available in the Lucite boxes in the Temple's coat closet hallway.

We're particularly excited about our September and October programs. We will welcome Dr. Les Rachlin on Thursday, September 27 at 7:30 p.m., for his musical comedy program of "Jewish American Folksong...Including Elvis."

We are so looking forward to Temple Sholom's very own Daniel Endy speaking on "Social Media 101 - All You Need To Know." Daniel's program will take place on Thursday, October 18 at 7:30 p.m. You're welcome to submit your social media questions in advance to Daniel at Daniel.Endy@gmail.com or just bring them that night.

Of course, delicious refreshments follow all our events!

As an overview of the upcoming Hilltoppers year, our programs range from live music to thoughtful, educational presentations. There will be a program on Israel and a visit from a political writer. Do you enjoy Big Band performances? We've got that, too!

Last Spring's Closing Dinner was quite a success, with well more than 50 attendees. We were delighted to honor Shirley Chalick with our Fourth Annual Righteous Person Award. Our deli dinner catered by Mrs. Marty's preceded the live entertainment of FiddleKicks. Six dancers astounded us with their Appalachian clogging repertoire, as they performed to three live musicians. Audience members joined the fun and learned a few steps, too!

Please join us next year for our Hilltoppers board meetings. We meet in the Temple library at 10:30 a.m., usually on the first Thursday of each month, from September through June. Our first meeting will be September 6. By the way, all Temple members are welcome to attend our Board members. We value input from everyone.

Be sure to sign up for Hilltoppers as a member. It's only $20 per person, and this guarantees regular reminders of all our events. Please make your check payable to The Hilltoppers and send it to Judy Zon, Hilltoppers Membership Chair, at the Temple, 55 N. Church Lane, Broomall, PA 19008. However, if you prefer to attend our programs as a non-member, you are also welcome. Our programs are open to the public, with a suggested donation fee of $5 per person per event.

If you have any questions, please contact Hilltoppers President Cindy Meyer at Cfrogs@aol.com or telephone her at 610-359-1133.

WOMEN'S SPIRITUALITY GROUP

Women's Spirituality - Who are we? We are a group of women who are Temple Sholom members. We invite all Temple Sholom women to join us whenever it is convenient. Every session is a separate program and no prior attendance or experience is necessary to enjoy and get a great deal from each program. We welcome all women members of Temple Sholom to share in the friendship and learning with Women's Spirituality.

What do we do? We meet once a month, usually on a Wednesday evening between 7:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. with a featured guest leader. While most of our meetings are in the Temple library, sometimes the location, day and time can change.

As we begin the New Year we would like to take this opportunity to thank Temple Sholom Sisterhood for their generous gift and the generous donors who acknowledge special occasions with a donation to the Women's Spirituality Fund at Temple Sholom.

Looking ahead for 2018-2019 our calendar is filled with exciting and new learning experiences with our very dedicated friends and teachers. We hope you will plan to be a part of our group. You can choose to join us as often as you wish.

Programs are funded by your contributions to Temple Sholom designated to Women's Spirituality and by a generous gift from Sisterhood of Temple Sholom.

Watch The Temple Tidings and weekly email Temple Announcements for monthly details.

Lori Green's topic for September 26 will be "B'tzelem Elohim - In the Image of God". God now said, "Let us make human beings in our image, after our likeness. So God created the human beings in [the divine] image, creating [them] in the image of God, creating them male and female. Genesis 1

Being made B'tzelem Elohim means that we are good enough just as we are.

Our program on October 17th will be led by Rabbi Shelly Barnathan. She will focus on Parashat Lech Lecha - "Go to Yourself." What does it mean to find our truest, inner selves? We will dive into this week's Torah portion through a spiritual lens, creating a weave of song, poetry, discussion and shared insight.

We hope to see you as we begin our 29th year on September 26.

TEMPLE SHOLOM PRESCHOOL HAPPENINGS

I wonder what would happen if I . . .

This sentiment or thought is the foundation of children at play. Children instinctively wonder: from infants who copy their parents' facial expressions (I wonder what will happen if I move my mouth this way too); toddlers who dump a box of toys all over the floor (I wonder that will happen if I turn this box upside down); and preschoolers who repeat the same games over and over again (I wonder if the outcome will be different this time).

I am writing this from Rochester, New York where I am on vacation. While not a typical vacation destination, The Strong Play Museum is here, so on our way back from other adventures, we stopped to allow our son a chance to play. We thought it might be a 2-hour diversion, and we would then move onto another activity. Six hours later we left the Strong Museum, feeling as if we could have spent another full day and still not have been bored.

As I walked through the museum, I watched my son (and hundreds of other children) play and wonder. I wish I could tell you about all of it, but here's a taste: an amazingly accurate Wegman's model, a History of Toys exhibit; Sesame Street Land, Story Adventure Land (like being trapped in a pop-up book); Butterfly Garden and the History of Video Games. (If you are interested, ask me and I will happily tell you all about it!)

Instead, I want to talk about why this museum works. This museum wants you to play. They encourage everyone to play. It is not a museum just for kids, where parents sit on their phones with nothing to do, and it is not a place for adults, where kids have to sit and be bored. It is a museum that understands why play is important for everyone. And in every room, at every exhibit, hands-on activities mix with informative displays. You can see the first Barbie Doll, and a hand-designed, round Monopoly board. And while you are looking at those, the kids are pushing large toy dump trucks, lifting and carrying 'rocks' or building with large blue foam blocks. My family (3 adults, 1 seven-year-old boy) happily sat for over 20 minutes, playing a large board game based on life riding in a covered wagon.

The museum has a well-thought-out and developmentally appropriate philosophy. The last line of that philosophy is "learning happens best in a stimulating, inviting, and nurturing environment." This Museum is the type of environment that helps children and grown-ups wonder and learn and grow. The children are learning through play, math, reading readiness, as well as emotional and social development – without even noticing.

Here at Temple Sholom, we encourage wonder. We continually strive to create a stimulating, inviting and nurturing environment where your children will grow through play. Come in and visit our own play museum.

AROUND RIMON

What Does it Mean to be Created in the Image of God - B'tzelem Elohim?

As we shift from the slower pace of summer into the frenzied pace of Fall we also have the opportunity re-connect as a Temple Sholom community. As our children return to their Rimon learning spaces and families come together for the Fall holidays I would like to offer some “food for thought”. What does it mean to be created in the image of God – B'tzelem Elohim? Who are we? What story do we tell about ourselves?

“In the beginning...”, that’s where it starts. Torah teaches that God created our world in six days and rested on the seventh day – Shabbat. On the last day of Creation God created humans:

“God created the human beings in [the divine] image, creating [them] in the image of God, creating them male and female. Genesis 1:27

For those who engage with Facebook you may have seen the page called “Humans of New York.” The people in these pages come from all different ethnicities, races, genders, pronouns, and more. Each has their own story. As Jews, we too are much like the people featured in “Humans of New York” each different, each with our own story, yet our story begins with being created B'tzelem Elohim – in the image of God.

As we look at the faces of people in our synagogue, our community, and our world it is difficult to see the commonalities that make us B'tzelem Elohim. To understand those commonalities, we need to dig deep into our Jewish story. The teachings, wisdom and values that are imbedded in our story and lived from one generation to the next is where we find our commonality ... and our humanity. Being created B'tzelem Elohim – in the image of God, raises our potential as human beings. Tzedakah is often mis-defined as “charity.” But “charity” is optional – tzedakah is a commandment incumbent on each of us as members of the Jewish people. Our Jewish values and the imperative to live out those values each and every day define for us what it means to be created B'tzelem Elohim – in the image of God.

Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel who walked with Martin Luther King in Selma, Alabama, once shared his personal thoughts on what it means to be created in God’s image. Heschel described a belief in a personal God who sees humankind as partners with God in creation, forging a world filled with justice and compassion.

This year at Rimon our children, our families, and our faculty will dig deep to discover the wisdom and values embedded in our Jewish story. This unique story will not only help us to understand our Jewish selves, but to understand our obligations to humanity, as well. Each of us will create our own narrative that exemplifies what our own understanding of B'tzelem Elohim.

From my family to yours,

Shana Tova u'metukah – A Good and Sweet Year!

OCTOBER B'NAI MITZVAH

Aidan Kalish, the son of Scott and Alison Kalish, will be called to the Torah on Saturday, October 6. In addition to his parents and his older brother, Nathan, he will be surrounded by his large family of two grandmothers, at least 17 aunts and uncles and many cousins. They are traveling from both far and near. Aidan's baseball team will also be in attendance to witness Aidan's special day.

Aidan enjoys playing competitive baseball, hanging with friends and playing video games. He likes to go on trips with his family; his favorite trip was to Cabo San Lucas, Mexico. Aidan is an excellent student who won the Scholarship Award at his school in both 5th and 6th grades. He is looking forward to the challenges of 7th grade.

For his Mitzvah Project, Aidan learned to use his Mom's sewing machine and made 24 little fleece pillows for the Julia's Grace Foundation. The foundation uses the pillows in its "Hug Boxes" that are given to children who are battling cancer. The foundation was created in memory of a schoolmate of Aidan's.

Ethan Pakuris, son Christopher and Joan Pakuris, will become a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, October 13. Joining him on this special day will be brothers Justin and Jordan, sister-in-law Krista, grandfather Edgar Freudenberg, uncle Joe Freudenberg and aunt Susan Freudenberg from Pittsburgh, cousins Sam and Julia Freudenberg from Pittsburgh, along with friends and family coming from Florida, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

A Springton Lake Middle School, 7th grader, Ethan is an avid reader. He can pretty much always be found with a book in his hand! He plays ice hockey and has also participated in soccer and gymnastics in the past. He will also be on his school's Cross Country team this year.

Because of Ethan's love of reading, he wanted to encourage others to read as well. For his Bar Mitzvah project, he will be volunteering at a library, as well as donating books to others. He hopes to help foster a love of books and reading in others.

Any other information you would like to share? Ethan is a very smart and kind person. His parents are extremely proud of him!

Alex Nelson, son of Madelaine Saldivar Nelson and Michael Nelson, will become a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, October 27th. Sharing his special day will be his sister, Sarah, grandparents Eliseo and Myrna Saldivar, Carol and Donald Dembert, and Sheldon and Karen Nelson, along with aunts, uncles, cousins, and close family friends from near and far.

A Radnor Middle School 8th grader, Alex has many interests, including computer programming and playing baseball. He has been studying karate and is eligible to test for his black-belt this fall.

JNF TREES AND WATER FOR ISRAEL

A quick and easy way to honor and/or remember a friend, relative or event is to have one or more trees planted in Israel. Or a donation may be made to help meet the water needs there. In either case, a lovely certificate is sent to the honoree and/or family.

The Temple Sholom Sisterhood wants to encourage everyone to support the Jewish National Fund (JNF) by planting trees in Israel and/or contributing to the JNF Parsons Water Fund to alleviate their severe water shortage. Planting trees helps to create green forests in previously barren land. Contributing to the water fund helps in the building of water reservoirs and dams which provide life-giving water to more than 1.2 million Israelis. Tree purchases are $18.00 each and contributions to the water fund also begin at $18.00. This is the perfect opportunity to honor and/or remember a family member, loved one, friend, etc. The honoree will receive a lovely certificate acknowledging your donation to JNF. - * The cost of one JNF tree is $18
- * A Ring of three trees is $54
- * A Circle of five trees costs $90
- * An Orchard of ten trees is $180
- * A Garden of 100 trees is $1,800

With each purchase, the recipient receives a beautiful (and frame-able!) certificate noting the gift size. You can even visit the trees when you go to Israel. The purchaser receives an acknowledgement in The Temple Tidings.

“A White Historian Explores Black Voting Rights”

We welcome back Susan Strasser! American voting has historically been restricted on the basis of many things other than race - including gender, class, ethnicity, religion, age, and personal history. But race stands out. Only African Americans have had the right to vote granted and repeatedly taken away. Voting has been one aspect of a larger system of racist laws and customs, so the right to vote has been intertwined with the rights to good education, housing, and jobs. And that system has been backed by violence, terror, and intimidation.

Using nearly 60 images and maps, Susan Strasser, Richards Professor of American History Emerita at the University of Delaware, will survey this history, with emphasis on two moments of possibility - Reconstruction and the early 1960s - and on recent attacks on the right to vote.

John Marks, MD COLORECTAL SURGEON

Whether you need a screening, initial consult or second opinion, the team at Lankenau Medical Center, part of Main Line Health, is known for its expertise in colorectal care. A heritage built by Dr. John Marks—one of the world's foremost colorectal surgeons whose experience includes more than 3,000 minimally invasive colorectal procedures—and his father before him, whose techniques remain the gold standard in colorectal surgery. What's more, with his partner Dr. Henry Schoonyong, sphincter preservation here at Lankenau is achieved 93 percent of the time vs. the national average of 40 to 60 percent. Which means most of our patients avoid a permanent colostomy bag.

So whatever your colorectal concerns, let's face them together. Here at Lankenau Medical Center. Visit mainlinehealth.org/markscolorectal or call 610.645.9093
