THOUGHTS FROM RABBI RIGLER

The French philosopher Emanuel Levinass teaches that as Jews and human beings if we want to see God the place to look is in the face of the other. In a relationship, he reminds us that it is how we treat our fellow human beings that we can achieve holiness. This is one of the teachings I try and use to guide my work.

As the spiritual leader of Temple Sholom, I have spent the past ten years building relationships and see this as a priority. My first year in the community for example, I went to Starbucks with so many congregants that it may have seemed like I worked there! While I love programs and teaching, I know that so much of what we do is about our relationships. Building trust, connections and shared experiences. In the past few years I have also always thought about how my relationships with others is in the greater community is, not only in my interest but, for the good of our community.

Both the Cantor and I are involved in many outside activities. I am an officer on the Board of Rabbis, the President of the Marple Clergy council, a member of the ethics committee of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, a member of the Camp Harlam faculty and board, an American Jewish World Service Rabbinic Fellowship participant and much more. Through this work I have built incredible connections that we have called upon during times of need and joy. For example as President of the local clergy council, I have a group I can call upon for support. This was why after the attack in Pittsburgh we had a service attended by every clergy member on our council.

I have been even more focused on relationships in community building in recent years. With the current state of things in Washington D.C. and politics, I felt sad and overwhelmed. One of my teachers and mentors Ruth Messinger reminded me that change is about local relationships. So I went out to build real relationships with local leaders.

State Representative Jennifer O'Mara has come to teach our students about leadership and will be welcoming a group of us to Harrisburg in March where she has invited me to offer the blessing to open the day at the State House.

Superintendent Tina Kane, of the Marple-Newtown District has met with our staff and also with our local clergy council at our request. When we had a complaint from a synagogue family about an anti-Semitic incident Superintendent Kane returned my call in minutes. She even called to review what holidays we felt should be given as off days.

Police Superintendent Christopher B. Flanagan of Radnor has asked me to be involved as a Police Chaplin. A role I am gladly taking! I will be riding with him on a few shifts to get to know the concerns of the area.

I have shared lunch and meetings with Marple Newton Police, the Radnor Superintendent, the Haverford Superintendent and many others. We build a better and safer community with these exchanges. When we need support I have friends and colleagues who I can count on. Relationship building is a holy act and I continue to build them in our community.

NOTES FROM CANTOR JAMIE MARX

"Purim, Passover, Packing"

When I was in cantorial school, my first year was spent studying in Israel. We arrived in late June to spend the summer learning Hebrew in an intensive ulpan program (Hebrew language immersion), but as the administration and teachers illuminated the seemingly long year ahead they kept telling us, "Before you know it'll be Purim-Passover-Packing." The experience of the spring semester is one where the holidays of Purim in late winter and Passover at the beginning of spring seem to hit one after another, and then it feels like mere minutes before all the students were packing up their lives to return to the United States for the remainder of the program. At the time, it seemed a funny way of condensing the final three months of the program as if they were so much shorter than the first three, but once we experienced it we discovered that it does indeed feel like a downhill race to summer.

What's amazing to me is how true that still seems today, particularly as a parent of school age children. Once we hit spring (marked pointedly for me by the intense Purim festivities around here), I know I will turn around and then school will be out and my kids will be ensconced in the rhythms of summer camp. It shouldn't feel any longer or shorter than, say, Labor Day to Thanksgiving, but somehow it has its own momentum.

And that's where Purim and Passover offer us some respite from that racing feeling. These rituals of levity, community, and tradition are like rest stops on the highway, a place to pause for a moment and recognize the distance we've come. Both holidays are observed by coming together, sharing in food and song, and marking the changing seasons. While it's easy enough to get caught up in the daily grind or the constant looking ahead to what's around the corner, take these two opportunities to take a breath and be present in the moment. Live it up, have a hamentaschen, bring out the nice china, and experience a feeling of regrouping before the race starts up again

MESSAGE FROM THE BOARD

In the time I have served on the board of trustees of Temple Sholom, I have come to understand the value of maintaining and expanding the leadership of the temple. This process is essential for the congregation to continue to grow and thrive. The URJ, the governing body of the Reform movement, recognizes this and makes resources to member congregations available to foster the training and development of new congregational leaders.

The board has begun planning a leadership development program which we hope to implement in this calendar year. This will be based on the URJ's suggested program, though we will modify those materials to fit our congregation's needs and to minimize the burden on participants. As we envision it, the program will consist of two or three weekend sessions, focusing on our congregation's unique mission and culture, the meaning and responsibilities of congregational leadership, and building and strengthening the sense of community among participants.

This program will be intended not just for prospective board members, but for anyone who is interested in taking a greater role in congregational leadership more broadly.

We are interested in input from members of the congregation, so please feel free to contact me, one of the officers of the board, or our clergy and director if you have suggestions for us or are interested in participating.

B'shalom, Michael Galvin

DIRECTOR'S CORNER

Dear Friends,

So much is changing this time of year. As the weather changes and spring is around the corner, we have many community events that are coming up for all of us to participate in.

We will be focusing on the Temple's budget for our next fiscal year (which will begin July 1st), our Passover holiday and celebrating together with our families and friends as well as a community and then our Annual Giving-Or L'Atid Campaign.

Thank you very much for being a part of our Temple community. Because membership dues/commitments only cover approximately one half of our annual budget, please make certain to pay attention to your Temple bill, and let me know if you have any questions or concerns. Timely payment is critical, and as we approach our final quarter, we depend upon you for our financial health.

We will begin to raise funds for our Annual Giving-Or L'Atid Campaign, and these funds are critical to a balanced budget. Your gift, no matter the size, is meaningful, greatly appreciated and makes a difference to our entire community. Please participate and help us to continue our vibrant Temple community.

Your membership with Temple Sholom is greatly appreciated. We exist because of your presence, volunteer time and your financial support.

REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH & RIGHTS WORKSHOP SUNDAY MARCH 1ST

Local Reform Synagogues Organize Reproductive Health and Rights Workshop Sunday March 1

It's a confusing time for supporters of women's access to reproductive health and their right to choose; however, local reform synagogues, an area legislator, and nonprofit organizations are coming together to bring the topics to light.

The Women of Reform Judaism (WRJ) Atlantic District and the Religious Action Center of Reform Judaism (RAC), in collaboration with the Sisterhoods and Social Action committees of Temple Sholom in Broomall, Main Line Reform Temple, Wynnewood, and Beth David Reform Congregation, Gladwynne, organized the workshop "Reproductive Health & Rights: What You Need to Know Now & Why." Temple Sholom in Broomall is hosting the event on Sunday, March 1, 2020, from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m.

The workshop will be moderated by Becky Markowitz, a past president of the WRJ Atlantic District; there will also be reflections from area Rabbis. A dynamic panel of speakers, who are well-versed on current issues surrounding reproductive health and rights, and will offer an insider's perspective on the issues, challenges and the steps one can take to make a positive impact in 2020.

Panelists include:

State Representative Mary Jo Daley – Montgomery County's 148th Legislative District
Daley currently serves Montgomery County's 148th Legislative District in the House of Representatives and has served in a government role since 1992. As the House Democratic Chair of the Women's Health Caucus, Daley considers reproductive rights a top priority. During the workshop, she will discuss legislation and laws that can protect or harm reproductive health services.

Melissa Weiler Gerber – AccessMatters
Since August 2010, Melissa Weiler Gerber has served as the president and CEO of AccessMatters in Philadelphia. AccessMatters advances sexual and reproductive health outcomes to promote health equity for individuals, families and communities. Weiler Gerber will speak on AccessMatters' connection to the nation's family planning program Title X. She will also provide tips on how to get involved in federal and state initiatives that will help close the gap between those with and without access to sexual and reproductive health care.

Lula Defersha – New Voices for Reproductive Justice
Lula Defersha is the associate director of New Voices for Reproductive Justice, a grassroots human rights organization that utilizes the reproductive justice framework to engage black women, femmes and girls in local movements for social change. Defersha will educate the audience on the history of reproductive justice, the issues and needs of those who do not have access to privilege, power and resources, and how to support the movement.

Ally Karpel – Women of Reform Judaism (WRJ) and Religious Action Center of Reform Judaism (RAC)
As the WRJ-RAC reproductive health and rights campaign associate, Ally Karpel drives strategy around the Reform Movement's reproductive rights advocacy and mobilizes the Reform communities to take action on a local, state, provincial and federal level. Karpel will advise audience members of the advocacy opportunities that they can take part in right now.

According to Rabbi Peter Rigler, whose synagogue is hosting the event, "Reform Jews have a responsibility to help others. It is our hope that attendees – male and female, of all denominations, will learn the steps they can take to provide a clearer path to healthcare and choice access for women."

A Chance to Help Women in Need

In lieu of an admission fee, please consider donating pads and tampons to be distributed to local charities in support of the Period Project.

Light refreshments and food will be provided by the Sisterhood of Temple Sholom in Broomall. Temple Sholom in Broomall, event host, is located at 55 N. Church Lane, Broomall.

RSVP by calling 215-884-6499 or emailing comsol@comsolutionsgroup.com.

SISTERHOOD: WE'RE CONCERNED AND WE HAVE FUN!

Our Sisterhood is proud to have taken an active role in the upcoming Reproductive Health & Rights: What You Need To Know Now and Why seminar on March 1 at 4:00 p.m. at Temple Sholom. This event is being presented by the Women of Reform Judaism Atlantic District, in collaboration with the Sisterhoods and Social Action Committees of Main Line Reform Temple, and Beth David Congregation. Spearheaded by Temple Sholom's Leza Raffel and with an introduction by Rabbi Rigler, we are very proud of our involvement.

Panelists on the slate for speaking as part of the Think Tank are State Representative Mary Jo Daley, Lula Defersha of New Voices for Reproductive Justice, Melissa Weiler Gerber of AccessMatters, and Ally Karpel of WRJ-RAC. Becky Markowitz of WRJ Atlantic District will moderate, and will be joined in discussion by area clergy.

In addition to our Sisterhood welcoming everyone and offering a promotional table, our Temple Sholom Sisterhood is pleased to offer a lovely refreshment reception afterward. Please see the flyer elsewhere in this issue of The Temple Tidings.

Sisterhood has been busy as bees planning two other events for the springtime. On Sunday, March 15 at 6:30 p.m., Sisterhood members will be having a Chocolate Party at Kilwin's Chocolate and Sweet Shop in Suburban Square. They will not only learn lots about chocolate, they'll be making their own and bringing home what they've created. Before this event, participants are welcome to join us around the corner from Kilwin's for dinner at "Not Your Average Joe's." Look for the flyer in this issue for more details.

Editors Note: This event has reached its maximum number of participants. If you are still interested, please contact the Sisterhood to be put on the waiting list.

Hmmm...we must be interested in food! Please join us on Sunday, April 26 at 4:00 p.m., for a lesson on baking rugelach at our Temple, presented by Mrs. Rikki Altein of Chabad of Delaware County. Last year, a bunch of us had a fabulous time learning how to make challah with Rikki. We can't wait to have another lesson from the lovely Rikki! Again, see the flyer for more details.

Coming in June 7 to our Temple is a congregation-wide event sponsored by Sisterhood on an update of all issues of LGBTQ. Our featured speaker will be Galia Godel from Philadelphia's Jewish Learning Venture.

Our Closing Dinner will take place this spring on June 4. Chaired by Lori Rowling, we know we can count on a fabulous evening whenever Lori is involved. Details will follow.

And, did somebody whisper something about a Sisterhood-wide retreat to take place about an hour away from Broomall????

To step back a bit, the weather was uncooperative for the joint Sisterhood/Sisterhood Book Club event featuring New York City author Myla Goldberg, presenting her new book Feast Your Eyes. We were a small but enthusiastic gathering who braved the snow and ice to experience a lovely evening. The two added dimensions were Myla signing our book copies and delicious refreshments.

Also, as a recap, Sisterhood members were pleased to serve approximately 150 people delicious potato latkes with applesauce and sour cream, plus donut holes as part of our Pre-Neg. It was a great way to celebrate Hanukkah together.

Sisterhood also celebrated Hanukkah with our friends from the Elder Circle in Upper Darby. We played dreidel together, ate latkes and donuts, and then learned of our new friends' holiday customs from their native lands. We plan a return event featuring our Passover customs, and learning about their Easter traditions.

We are looking forward to discussing Noah Gordon's The Last Jew on March 12 at 7:30 p.m., as part of Sisterhood Book Club. The final book of this season will be Another Time, by Jillian Gordon, for our discussion on May 14.

If you have a happy or a sad occasion to mark in your life, be sure to take advantage of purchasing Sisterhood's Happiness & Memorial Cards. Sisterhood also offers Jewish National Fund Trees at a discounted price. Just contact Shirley Birenbaum at surabassa@aol.com or call her at 610-328-2171, and she will handle the postage and addressing.

Passover is just around the corner. Be sure to take advantage of Sisterhood's gift shop, The Gift Garden, located across the hall from the Temple Office. It is open throughout the school year with regular hours posted on the door, by special appointment, or Office Staff is able to help you, as well. All your gift needs can be met there. Sisterhood members are entitled to a generous discount on all Gift Garden inventory.

A wonderful way to make new friends and to strengthen former friendships is through involvement in Sisterhood and Sisterhood program committees. Everyone is welcome and encouraged to become involved as much as your time allows. No experience is necessary.

Do you have any questions or concerns? Are you ready to become involved? Please direct your correspondence to sisterhood@temple-sholom.org. Your response will arrive quickly.

Remember, our Sisterhood is YOUR Sisterhood.
Without you, we are one woman short.

HILLTOPPERS TAKE YOU TO THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG

Historical Re-Enactor Jane Peters Estes To Present The Battle of Gettysburg

Mark your calendars now for what is sure to be an amazing program to be presented by the Hilltoppers on Thursday, March 26, at 1:30 p.m. This afternoon event, featuring Jane Peters Estes, will help you imagine you lived during the historic times of The Battle of Gettysburg.

Dressed in full period costume, get ready to listen to the story of the women who took part in all aspects of the greatest battle of the Civil War. Of course, delicious refreshments will be served.

You are welcome to invite your friends and neighbors to Hilltoppers' programs. All our events are open to the public for just a $5 donation per program.

There will not be an April program, but make sure you've marked May 21 in your calendar for a 7:30 p.m. performance of Act III Entertainment with Selma Savitz, where you will be regaled with this Cabaret ensemble singing Broadway hits and classic pop tunes.

We are getting ready for a theater outing combined with dinner out. Watch for details – this is going to be great!

The Hilltoppers Book Discussion Group will be meeting on Wednesday, March 11 (note: this is a Wednesday, not a Thursday), when our own Rabbi Peter Rigler will facilitate a discussion of Nathan Englander's somewhat controversial Kaddish.com. There is not an April selection.

The May book, That Kind of Mother, by Rumaan Alaam, will be discussed on May 14.

Please remember that Hilltoppers is pleased to offer you giving opportunities. If you would like to honor a friend or a loved one, or mark a sad occasion in your life or of someone dear to you, Hilltoppers will gratefully accept your donation, acknowledge it to you, and send a lovely note to your designee.

Please join us for our lively monthly board meetings. Everyone is invited and your opinion matters. Our upcoming board meetings will be held in the Temple library at 10:30 a.m. on March 5 and April 2.

If you have any questions, please contact Hilltoppers President Cindy Meyer at cfrogs@aol.com or call her 610-359-1133.

CONVERSATIONS WITH MEN

We meet on Sunday mornings 9:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. during Religious school hours so you can join us after you drop off your kids at Rimon.

Join us on March 1st for a discussion on Spirituality and Gender

In today's world is much more accepting of personal differences in general. The area of gender and identity may be the most challenging. More and more people are "coming out." From "don't ask, don't tell" to gender neutral bathrooms, the world is adjusting one step at a time. We will discuss these matters in the light of what our spiritual traditions and values teach us.

On April 26 our topic will be Spirituality and Climate Change

Even the climate change deniers are starting to realize that something very significant is happening. We can debate why and how and the timing, but it's increasingly clear that the climate is changing dramatically. We will discuss what our spiritual tradition says about man's responsibilities in caring for the Earth.

WOMEN'S SPIRITUALITY

All women members of Temple Sholom in Broomall are welcome to attend our monthly meetings. There are NO DUES . . . just come and enjoy the programs as often as it is convenient.

Here's a taste of our programs from the last two months as we started the year 2020. On January 22nd Anna Marx brought her program "Has Judaism Crashed? How a queer Talmud study changed the way I see Jewish community." We watched a video presentation followed by an animated discussion. It was a very lively and interesting evening for everyone

On Wednesday, February 26th we enjoyed Rabbi Shelly Barnathan's program about "The New Month of Adar and Parshat Terumah - Creating Joy and Holiness in our Lives." When Adar arrives, we increase in joy. Terumah in Hebrew means "gift" or "offering." What gifts or offerings can we bring to create joy and holiness at this time? This was an important question for us then, now, and in our future.

Now as springtime arrives, please join Women's Spirituality on Wednesday March 25th for our book discussion. We will be discussing The Tattooist of Auschwitz by Heather Morris. It is based on the powerful true story of love and survival. A story of two ordinary people, living in an extraordinary time, deprived not only of their freedom but their dignity, their names, and their identities. A personal account of what they needed to do to survive. Please mark your calendar to meet with us in the Temple library on Wednesday, March 25th at 7:30 p.m.

Women's Spirituality looks forward to welcoming Rabbi Stacy Rigler on April 22nd. Don't miss this opportunity to be surprised and be a part of the experience to participate in Rabbi Stacy Rigler's creative, imaginative and inspiring program. It's an opportunity that shouldn't be missed. Meet us in the library on Wednesday, April 22nd at 7:30 p.m.

Our programs are funded by your contributions to Temple Sholom designated to Women's Spirituality also by a generous gift from the Sisterhood of Temple Sholom.

Women's Spirituality offers many opportunities to share and learn together. Please mark your calendars and set a reminder to join us on March 25th for our book discussion and April 22nd with Rabbi Stacy Rigler. We look forward to seeing you in the Temple Library at 7:30 p.m.

Please watch the Temple announcements for any updates, changes or cancellations that might occur.

Outdoor Play in School!

We love outdoor play. If you ask the children why they like to play outside, the answers will usually fall in the line of “it’s fun!” or “we can run and jump!” If you ask the teachers why they take the students outside, you will get quick answers such as “they need to run and jump” and “we need to get their energy out!”

Most adults can also point to other reasons. Children, and adults, need exposure to sunshine and the vitamin D plays an important role in immunity and in mood development. Children need at least 1 hour of exercise every day, and while exercise can happen indoors, it is much more beneficial for children to run and climb in nature. Another benefit for outdoor play is socialization. They need to learn to make friends, how to share and cooperate, how to treat other people. If they only interact in very structured settings, such as school or sports teams, they won’t — they can’t — learn everything they need to know.

But there is so much more behind those answers. There is the appreciation of nature. The children love the opportunity to dig, climb and experience the senses of the outdoors. If you have ever watched children make “dandelion” soup over a (fake) “campfire”, then you understand the benefits of nature.

As adults, we always want to keep kids safe. We put kids in a bubble to keep them from participating in risky behaviors. When children play outside, they take more risks (climbing up slides instead of going down; swinging high in the air) and these behaviors help them learn valuable lessons.

Our students here at TSB love to play outside in all seasons. Check out some of the outdoor play our students participate in during the year.

TRIVIA NIGHT 2020 – A NIGHT OF FUNDRAISING, FRIENDSHIP AND FUN!

The Temple Sholom Preschool PTO is thrilled to reflect upon the success of another wonderful Trivia Night!

On Saturday, February 8, with nearly 150 participants in attendance, the Temple Sholom multipurpose room was filled with laughter, excitement and teamwork as we played six rounds of engaging trivia consisting of general and pop culture trivia.

Accented with vivid centerpieces and floral décor from one of our event sponsors, Exceptional Events, the room was transformed into the perfect venue for a night out with friends! The beautiful donated décor created a lively and upscale atmosphere which was perfect for a Saturday night out.

Participating teams worked together to answer exciting questions - some questions even challenging the players to think about television shows over several decades. Finally – watching television has paid off! Congratulations to our winning team, The Brain Teasers.

As usual, our MC, Rabbi Peter Rigler, kept the crowd laughing with his enthusiasm and singing skills. He is quite the performer – who knew?

When our guests were not answering questions, they took their chances on our wonderful Raffle items or bid on our Silent Auctions. Our Raffle Items and Silent Auctions were all made possible by generous donations from our preschool families, friends, and local businesses. Through the collaborative efforts of our volunteers, we were able to offer nearly 40 items for guests to win.

Our generous raffle donations included items such as a very full lottery scratch-ticket basket, spa and wellness packages, and even authentic Cuban rum and cigars brought back from Rabbi Rigler's recent trip to Cuba.

Additionally, we offered a wonderful selection of Silent Auction items. Items including a private dinner from Farmer's Keep (a lovely center city restaurant owned by our preschool's own Josh and Maggie Bullock), a Flyers fan package including tickets for two different games and Blade Shade sunglasses (generously donated by parent, Lee Elias), and even more creative contributions from our families allowed winners to take home some very elegant auction options. We are incredibly lucky to have so many creative entrepreneurs amongst our preschool family!

We would like to extend our appreciation to Rabbi Peter Rigler for engaging the crowd throughout the evening! Thank you Lori-An Penchansky and Nertilla Kocibelli for your leadership and support in making the event such a success! And last, but most certainly not least, a HUGE Thank You to our parent volunteers who worked on the various logistics to make the night possible. Thank you so much to Ann Marie Casey, Stephanie Butler, Rachel Cahill, Tim Else, Julie Montagino, Tom Montagino and Jonathan Quagliarello for all of your hard work!

As you can imagine, we are already thinking about next year! If you would be interested in supporting or providing your feedback to make our event even better, please do not hesitate to reach out!

We are so grateful to our community for supporting the Temple Sholom Preschool! Your generosity helped us raise over $6,000!

Thank you, April Else

Engaging with Israel – The Spring Holidays

In February we celebrated the holiday of Tu B'Shevat – literally the 15th day of the Hebrew month of Shevat. Tu B'Shevat is the New Year of the Trees. In Israel the first sign of spring is the budding of the almond trees. There is a wonderful story that reminds us of the importance of trees (and all of nature) – in each and every generation...

Once Honi was walking along the road when he saw a man planting a carob tree. He asked the man, "How long before the tree will bear fruit?" "Seventy years" answered the man. Honi asked, "And will you be alive in 70 years to eat from its fruit?" The man answered, "And what if I am not? Just as I found the world full of carob trees planted by my parents and grandparents, so will I plant for my children."

Just one month after the holiday of Tu B'shevat we celebrate another joyous holiday – Purim. The story of Purim is not found in Torah but in Megillat Esther. Purim is a fun holiday that celebrates both oppression and redemption. In Israel, Purim is embraced and celebrated by everyone...religious or secular. It is celebrated in the schools, in the workplace, and in the streets. If you are ever in Israel during Purim be prepared to witness and be swept away by the Purim frenzy. If you happen to be in Tel Aviv, you will be able to join in or just be a spectator for the Tel Aviv Zombie Walk.

Just a few weeks after Purim we celebrate Passover...and so do Israelis! Retelling the story of the Israelites journey from slavery to freedom, participating in a Seder, speaking the words, "Next Year in Jerusalem" are all elements of Passover the world over. Since Israel is a land of diversity with Jews from all over the world it is no surprise that there are different "twists" on the how the holiday is celebrated. Did you know that Jews from Morocco celebrate the holiday of Mimouna? Speaking of Moroccan tradition there is also the custom of holding the Seder plate above each participants' head! Tunisian Jews have furthered this custom by making sure the Seder plate touches the head of each participant. These customs are rooted in the fact that everyone should remember the burden of slavery.

Whether you are religious, secular, or not Jewish, dining out in Israel during Passover is easy for all. There is a restaurant for everyone! By the way, did you know that Ben and Jerry's offers a special ice cream flavor for Passover? Yep, they have created charoset flavored ice cream to their repertoire!

Our Rimon learners are now immersed in taking a deep dive into modern Israel. From holidays to culture, diverse narratives to technology, they are investigating what it means to live in Israel today.

CELEBRATION OF JEWISH DISABILITIES AWARENESS & INCLUSION MONTH

February is Jewish Disabilities Awareness and Inclusion Month (JDAIM). The Inclusion and Special Needs Committee hosted our annual celebration of JDAIM on February 7th during Shabbat services. Dr. Mark Salzer, a psychologist who specializes in mental health issues and inclusion in faith communities, gave an inspirational and informative speech about how we can be more welcoming and embrace members in our community with mental illness. He shared that people with a mental illness often do not feel welcome and sometimes are asked not to attend services or events at their house of worship because their behavior may make others uncomfortable. If we take time to educate our community about a congregant's challenges and how this might manifest in his/her behavior, it is more likely that we will be kind and understanding, rather than afraid.

calm down. If we can all remember that mental illness is an invisible disability, and the person we judge as "disruptive" because of what he/she says or does, may be a person challenged by mental illness. Dr. Salzer also shared that violent behavior is generally not common for people with a mental illness, despite what we see in the news.

He suggested ways that a congregation could be supportive and inclusive including arranging for a few people to act as "angels" who will be available to help that congregant by offering assistance, reminding the person that the behavior is unacceptable, or accompanying the congregant out of the sanctuary to Temple Sholom also welcomed representatives from DMax Foundation (Lee and Laurie Maxwell) and the Society of Suicide Prevention (Janet Evans) who were kind enough to host resource tables before and after services. Many congregants took the time to ask questions and take the literature provided about these two organizations.

Please remember, if you need assistance with accommodations for special needs for yourself, a family member, or a guest, please contact either Abbey Krain, Executive Director or Regina Levin at inclusion@temple-sholom.org

MARCH & APRIL B'NAI MITZVAH

Bram Shandler, son of Rick and Sue Shandler, will become a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, March 14. Sharing with special day will be brother Eli, grandmother Sally Pratt from Milwaukee, WI; grandmother Gail Showerman from Elkhart Lake WI; uncle Steve Pratt and cousins Lucas and Riley from Brookline, MA; and great aunt Fran Fertel from Boca Raton, FL.

Bram is a 7th grader at Haverford Middle School in Havertown. He loves fishing and catching reptiles and amphibians. Catching frogs, toads and snapping turtles are his specialty. He enjoys woodworking and using power tools with his dad. He also enjoys acting in plays. In the winter he skis with his family. He attends Camp Harlam in the summer.

Describe your Mitzvah Project: For my mitzvah project, I worked at Manna to help cook and package food for people who need it. Most of the people we made food for had a bad illness that required lots of highly nutritious food. Manna is helping to fill a void of food and nutrition. People who struggle with food insecurity have a void of food in their everyday lives. Manna provides them with food so they don't have to worry about it and can focus more on other things like healing or getting back on their feet.

While I was at Manna, I got to see firsthand what the organization does to help people with food insecurity. I saw how everyone worked together to create good, healthy food in a positive environment. Although not everyone volunteering got to help in ways that they wanted to, we still pitched in and helped out. Seeing how people from so many different backgrounds could work together to help others in need was inspiring. Before we starting working, the people from Manna explained how the kitchen runs, how to get from here to there, what your job was, and how to do it. When I was told how the kitchen was organized and run, I didn't think it would work. But when I finally walked into the room, I was astonished to see how well their system worked and how nobody got in the way of anybody else. But I only knew it would work after I saw it.

Sage Silverman, son of Ayaka and Ed Silverman, will become a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, March 21. Celebrating this special occasion will be his sisters Emmy and Maya, grandma Alice Silverman and great aunt Ann Moskowitz coming in from California, along with friends and family.

Sage is a 7th grader at Radnor Middle School where he enjoys Boy Scouts, Roblox and building things.

Describe your Mitzvah Project in a paragraph or two: I went to Manna and helped pack foods for the hungry. We packed lentils and carrots, chicken. We also put fruit in bags like pears, apples and oranges. We did this for people who needed food, or they had a special diet. This helped them become healthy because that diet gave them what they needed.

Any other information you would like to share? I'd like to thank Temple Sholom for being so welcoming to me and my family.

Maya Jordan Rosenberg, daughter of David and Sarah Rosenberg, will celebrate her Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, March 28. Helping her celebrate this special occasion will be her brothers, Jude and Tobey; grandparents Merle and John McAllister, Dawn Potts, and Jonathan Arnon; and great grandmother: Millie Rosenberg coming from Austin TX.

A Strath Haven Middle School 7th grader, Maya is a black belt in Karate, black-diamond advanced skier, was student of the month at SHMS, is an Honors student and plays percussion in the SHMS band. She also enjoys art, nature, cooking, animals, reading, traveling, and skiing.

Maya has been volunteering at All Riders Up for the last 6 months. It started out as her Mitzvah Project and it turned into an on-going weekly volunteer gig. Maya helps with barn chores and horse care. All Riders Up is a great organization that "provides equine assisted activities to encourage individuals with special needs in reaching their potential for physical, behavioral, and social development." She has become an asset to their volunteering team.

Libby Ann Flaisher, daughter of Ari and Jennifer Flaisher, will celebrate her Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, April 25th. Sharing in her special day will be her brother Jonah, grandparents Carol Flaisher and Murdoch Campbell, from Richmond, VA, Helene Hay from Baltimore, MD, Jack and Joannie Corbin from Myrtle Beach, SC, and Roberta Bass from Delray Beach, FL.

A 7th grade student at Haverford Middle School, Libby enjoys playing basketball, golf, and lacrosse.

Describe your Mitzvah Project in a paragraph or two: I am volunteering with the Special Olympics of PA in a photography role. I really enjoy taking pictures and working with people with special needs so this is a good service project for me. At various sporting events this winter I have taken pictures of the people and athletes in attendance and shared my work with the Special Olympics event and volunteer coordinator. It has been very impactful for me to see how these events mean so much to so many people and the joy it brings all of them.

KESHET-AT-TSB TASK FORCE

Did you know that Keshet, a national volunteer organization, dedicates itself to promoting LGBTQ equality in all facets of Jewish life? Keshet works for the full equality of LGBTQ Jews and their families in Jewish life. Toward that end, Keshet has worked nationally to support leadership development among LGBTQ Jewish teens, to train clergy, synagogue teams, and Jewish educators to celebrate LGBTQ Jewish identity and prevent anti-LGBTQ bullying, and to mobilize Jewish communities to protect marriage equality and transgender rights.

Over the past few years, Temple Sholom clergy and staff have participated in trainings provided by Keshet, and have indicated a desire to bring Keshet-motivated work to our own community. The Keshet-at-TSB task force began a few years ago and focused on increasing opportunities for education and awareness at Temple Sholom.

The Task Force is interested in revisiting some of this work - if you are interested in being involved, contact us at maryyourke2@gmail.com. We can let you know about future meetings and opportunities to be involved.

ToaSTY

I wanted to take this opportunity to talk about the national youth movement we are a part of through the URJ, NFTY-PAR (National Federation of Temple Youth - Pennsylvania Area Region).

Throughout the year, NFTY-PAR has different programming for teens in grades 6-12 throughout Pennsylvania, South Jersey, and Delaware. Some of the programs are for one day; others are weekend long programs that take place either at a local synagogue or Camp Harlam. These programs are a ton of fun and allow teens to make connections with other Jewish teens from around the tristate area. They are able to develop their Jewish identities further, learn valuable leadership skills, take part in incredible social action projects, and of course, build friendships that last a lifetime.

We have teens and graduates who have attended all of the NFTY-PAR events while they are/were high school students. Some have even gone on to be Head Song leaders for NFTY-PAR or serve on the NFTY-PAR Regional Board. I am happy to connect you with some of those teens to hear their experiences. There are scholarships/grants available to attend any of the weekend long programs through NFTY-PAR and Jewish Federation of Greater Philadelphia. I am also happy to discuss opportunities for financial assistance to attend these amazing events.

For more information about NFTY-PAR, I highly encourage you to visit their website, <https://pennsylvania.nfty.org/>, follow them on Facebook, and reach out to either myself or Amanda Wachstein, NFTY-PAR Senior Regional Director, at awachstein@urj.org.

Please let me know if you have any questions or are interested in attending one of their next events: Spring 67 for 6th & 7th graders on April 4 or Spring Kallah for 8th-12th graders April 16-19 at Camp Harlam.

JNF TREES AND WATER FOR ISRAEL

A message from Sisterhood about supporting JNF by planting Trees in Israel and/or contributing to the JNF Parsons Water Fund to alleviate their severe water shortage. Planting trees helps to create green forests in previously barren land. Contributing to the Water Fund helps in the building of water reservoirs and dams which provide life-giving water to more than 1.2 million Israelis.

Tree purchases are $18.00 each and contributions to the water shortage also begin at $18.00.

This is the perfect opportunity to honor and/or remember a family member, loved one, friend, etc. The honoree will receive a lovely certificate which can be framed for an additional nominal fee. Consider acknowledging birthdays, weddings, anniversaries, graduations, bar & bat mitzvahs, confirmations, and other special occasions in this very special way. This is also a way to honor and/or remember the memory of dear friends and loved ones.

An Orchard of Ten Trees was planted by Adele Persky in memory of Hans Benjamin Marx, beloved husband, father, & grandfather of Norma Marx & Family.

A tree was planted by Gloria Kresch in memory of Hans Marx beloved husband, father & grandfather of Norma Marx & Family
